No Headway On Reapportionment

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's Democratic leaders, racing against time at this point, failed Wednesday to reach agreement on any specific plan for reapportioning the state's congressional districts.

State chairman Otis B. Morse said after a four-hour session of the party's top brass that no agreements were reached because six of the 14 Democratic congressmen were unable to attend the meeting.

A cheerful-looking Morse met with newsmen after a lengthy luncheon discussion in a downtown hotel broke up.

Rep. Walter Hits
At Communism

NORTHAMPTON, Pa. (AP) — "I am going to talk to you about absolutely nothing," Rep. Francis Walter, D-Pa., told a Northampton area chamber of commerce dinner Wednesday night. Then he added:

"That is true if you believe much of what you hear and read today from those who say there is no internal communist menace, and anyone who thinks there is one, is close to crazy, a crackpot or an extremist, at best. The only danger, the American people have been told over and over again of late, is from external communism. There is nothing to worry about here at home."

Walter, chairman of the House un-American Activities Committee, said to his constituents, "The Communists are operating in all major segments of American life."

He cited instances which he said proved it.

Expect Truce In Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican governmental crisis was reported near a solution Wednesday night. Optimism flooded headquarters of the National Civic Union, the main opposition to President Joaquin Balaguer's present regime.

Dominican informants said they expected an agreement between the government and the Civic Union to be announced by Thursday.

But usually volatile sources, both official and unofficial, maintained strict silence on details of the reported formula for a new administration.

Khrush Says U.S.
Causes Trouble

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in a gay and easy mood at a Finnish diplomatic reception, told the U.S. ambassador Wednesday night the Americans "are the ones stirring things up. You can quiet them when you want."

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn R. Thompson Jr., had suggested that he would like a few days rest and asked Khrushchev if he would keep things quiet awhile.

"It is not ourselves who are rolling the waters," Khrushchev replied.

Britain Plans
Satellite Shot

LONDON (AP)—Britain plans to fire its first space satellite around the earth next spring aboard a U.S. Delta rocket, the House of Lords was told Wednesday night.

The planned satellite launching is part of a British-American research project.

Viscount Hallam, minister for science, told the House, "It is flattering to be told the Americans regard the payload of the first joint satellite as one of the most sophisticated in their experience."

JFK Proposes
Easing Tariffs

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy told a meeting of businessmen Wednesday that trade barriers in all the industrial nations of the free world "must be brought down" to stimulate international commerce.

He proposed the move to ease tariffs be "led by the two great common markets of the Atlantic," the United States and Europe.

A "new and bold" approach to American trade policy, he said, "is needed if our exports are to retain and expand their position in world markets."

Soviets Unveil
Record Budget

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government unveiled a record budget for 1962 Wednesday calling for large increases in military spending. It justified the hike in defense spending by asserting the West "is openly threatening war."

The over-all budget for 1962 totals 81.9 billion rubles, with 13.4 billion rubles going for defense expenditures. This is a hike of almost 50 per cent in military spending over that originally planned for 1961.

Groner Succeeds
Lawson On Council

EDWARD R. Lawson, a member of Stroudsburg Borough Council since 1948 and its president since 1962, resigned last night because he is moving from the borough.

J. Albert Groner, Fifth Ward councilman, was named to succeed Lawson as president until the Jan. 2 reorganizational meeting. Groner, who lost to John R. Hauser, Democrat, in the November election, will leave council at that time.

Robert L. Weichel of 209 N. Sixth St. was appointed to serve Lawson's unexpired term as councilman until the first Monday of January, 1964. Both are Republicans.

Lawson, who recently built a new home in Stroud Township, was appointed to council in 1948 to succeed Earl Dennis when Dennis became burgess upon the resignation of Hal H. Harris to accept the post of acting postmaster of Stroudsburg.

Lawson described his years on council as a "real pleasure," lauded the cooperation he has received from borough officials and wished his successor well.

Mayor Edward A. Doran said Lawson's resignation is "a great loss to the borough" and praised the resigning council president as "a leader and inspiration to all over the years."

Groner, assuming the president's chair in the closing moments of the meeting, reviewed Lawson's accomplishments of council during the past four years.

He cited among them the Stroudsburg - East Stroudsburg flood control project, establishment of an air pollution control board, off-street parking, the Stroudsburg - East Stroudsburg Control Center, the sanitary land-fill, opening of McConnell St. and the intensive resurfacing and repairing of borough streets.

U.S. Man In Orbit
Postponed Till '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States dropped hurry-up plans to orbit a man around the earth this month and aimed Wednesday at achieving this next giant step in space conquest early next month.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration also said the next orbit attempt in the Mercury program will be made by a man—ruling out any more tests with animals.

Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., 40, a Marine lieutenant colonel already has been chosen to take the ride, with Navy Lt. Cmdr. Scott Carpenter, 36, as the backup or standby pilot.

No firm December target date had been announced for orbiting the first American. But U.S. space officials for months had been pushing to accomplish it in this same year the Russians orbited their two space pioneers. Word had been passed that the attempt might be made as early as Dec. 20.

NASA officials set no specific January date, although there were indications here it might be in the first week of the new year. Unofficial sources at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., launching site reported a date of Jan. 16 had been picked.

There was no official explanation for the decision to wait until next year and the announcement was a surprise to most persons at Cape Canaveral.

There had been reports of technical troubles interfering with plans for an orbit this year, but NASA has insisted all is progressing normally. And officials at the Cape reported checkouts of the Atlas booster, the man capsule and other phases of the program are progressing smoothly.

However, officials at Cape Canaveral said a launch attempt this year would have put extreme pressure on everyone and this

Twenty Years Ago Today:

Pearl Harbor Memorial To Mark 'Day Of Infamy'

By ROBERT MYERS
PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — Twenty years ago, a sleepy Sunday morning in Hawaii was shattered by Japanese bombs falling on Pearl Harbor.

The anniversary of that date—Dec. 7, 1941—will be disturbed only by the sharp sound of a bugle and a quiet memorial service above a sunken battleship. For one day, "Battleship Row" again will become the center of the mid-Pacific U.S. naval base.

The row, where seven U.S. battleships were moored that Sunday, is like an old scar. It's hardly noticed, except by those seeing it for the first time.

But beneath its gentle waters lie the remains of the USS Arizona and 1,102 crew members who went down with her.

The Arizona has become the symbol of the attack that thrust America into World War II. Above the battleship's hulk rises an incomplete crescent-shaped memorial to the crew. It also salutes the nearly 900 others who died along Ford Island's northeast shore that "Day of Infamy."

The 20th anniversary services will be held aboard the memorial's platform beginning at 7:55 a.m., exact moment of the attack. The memorial itself will not be completed until spring but it is far enough for the ceremony. Guests—including military and congressional leaders and representatives of veterans organizations—will be aboard the platform. Others will view the service from a boat alongside.

Among those paying tributes will be 108 New England survivors of the raid. They flew here from Boston to help honor their fallen comrades. Also on hand will be 60 Gold Star mothers, many of whose sons died on the Arizona.

Most of the New England group and Gold Star mothers will be stationed on the boat. A few will be aboard the memorial together with five U.S. representatives.

Gov. Paul J. Fannin of Arizona, Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii, Pacific military commander Adm. Harry D. Felt and Pacific fleet commander Adm. John H. Sides. A special place of honor will be held by Lt. Gen. Alan Shapley, Pacific Marine commander and one of nine Marines aboard the Arizona who survived. Shapley was rescued after being thrown overboard by the blast concussion.

Carillon chimes from Ford Island near the Arizona will signal the start of services. As their clear tinkles fades over the still harbor, a Navy bugler will sound call to colors and an American flag will be raised over the Arizona—as it is every day.

The Arizona is the only U.S. battleship still commissioned. The Navy sentimentally—but officially—regards her as a member of the fleet because her crew is aboard.

After an invocation and a religious hymn, Adm. Sides will deliver the memorial address. A prayer will follow.

Flowers will be cast upon the water over the Arizona and floral tributes will be arranged on the platform. A band will play the Navy hymn, "Eternal Father, Strong to Save."

The ceremony will be concluded with a benediction, the bugler's playing of Taps, a rifle salute and a carillon recessional.

There is no activity along battleship row these days—it has been retired with the battlewagons. The new Navy—with its giant aircraft carriers, nuclear submarines and speedy cruisers and destroyers—is scattered elsewhere.

Only two flags fly above the row—one beside the white administration building on Ford Island, the other over the Arizona. They are less than a mile apart.

In that space, 2,000 men died on a Sunday morning 20 years ago.

Katanga Fighting Takes To The Air

U. S. Backs
UThant In Congo Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States stepped up support of United Nations operations in the Congo Wednesday with an offer of 21 more huge transport planes.

The 15 C124 Globemasters and six smaller C130 Hercules are in addition to six U.S. C124s the United Nations is already using in efforts to pacify the Congo.

State Department officials, announcing this, maintained the United States has no quarrel with Britain over United Nations objectives in the Congo.

The question arose when London news dispatches quoted Edward Heath, Britain's deputy foreign secretary, as saying in the House of Commons that the U.N. forces have no right to impose a political solution on secessionist Katanga by force.

Officially the State Department declined comment. Spokesman Lincoln White repeated what he told a news conference Tuesday—that the United States supports U.N. acting Secretary-General U Thant, who has ordered U.N. forces to take whatever action is necessary to restore order in Elisabethville, Katanga's capital.

Washington offered the planes on Thant's request, the State Department said. It authorized their use in flying U.N. troops directly from countries of origin to wherever they are needed in the Congo.

The planes, based in France and Libya, will remain under U.S. command and be manned by American crews, the department said.

On the seemingly different U.S.-British interpretation of the U.N. mission in the Congo, officials here said privately that if Heath stated the United Nations is not in Katanga to impose a political solution, Washington subscribes to what he said.

KATANGA ARMOR POISED FOR BATTLE — Armored cars manned by troops of secessionist Katanga province block road on outskirts of Leopoldville where fighting erupted between United Nations and Katanga troops. Cross on front of vehicle is Katanga symbol. Fighting in the Congo province continues including air attacks by both sides.

Tshombe Flying Home From Paris; Destroy Four Planes

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga the Congo (AP) — Cannon-firing jets wiped out part of Katanga's air force, the U.N. command announced Wednesday as both sides took to the air in a second day of fighting in this secessionist province.

In fighting inside this capital, the United Nations claimed to have seized an underpass controlling traffic to the suburbs. Katanga mortar fire shook U.N. headquarters and there was fighting around a roadblock leading from the city to the main airport.

Tshombe reported from Paris that the fighting had become more general with a U.N. attack on Manono, 275 miles north of here. He announced he was flying home.

The fighting erupted after Katanga denounced a new U.N. resolution directed against Tshombe's secession from the central Congo government.

Katanga Foreign Minister Everiste Kimba, ranking official in Tshombe's absence, declared he would never ask a cease-fire, and asserted: "We shall follow a scorched earth policy."

He threatened to arrest U.S. Consul Lewis Hoffacker because of U.N. air attacks which he blamed on the U.S. Air Force.

A count of the dead at Queen Elisabeth Hospital in two days of fighting was 15. The dead included four European civilians. Earlier, U.N. sources had estimated 40 persons had been killed among the fighting forces, all but one of them Katangans.

The air strikes were a dramatic reversal of the lack of air support last September when the U.N. Command agreed to a cease-fire after eight days of fighting.

The U.N. said two Indian Canberra jets—not U.S. planes as charged by Kimba—blasted to bits four Katanga planes, including a Fouga jet fighter, in an attack on Kolwezi air base, 120 miles northwest of Elisabethville. A fuel depot and tower also were damaged.

Other U.N. planes destroyed a highway bridge at Lufira, linking this capital with the military base of Jadotville, 65 miles northwest of here, it was announced.

The U.N. air strikes were carried out after the Katangan air force swung into action in a bid to repeat its September successes.

A lone converted Dornier transport dropped three bombs at Elisabethville airport and another Katanga plane circled the U.N. field but was chased by anti-aircraft fire, the U.N. said. The bombs caused no serious casualties or damage, a spokesman said.

One twin-engine Dornier ducked into the clouds during the Kolwezi attack, Indian Brig. K.A.S. Raja, new U.N. chief in Katanga, said a Fouga got off the ground but made a forced landing in nearby Kasai Province near Lubumbashi.

The Katangan air force was believed to have not more than 20 planes at Kolwezi—including one Fouga mounting rockets and twin cannon, five Dornier transports, two twin-engine Doves converted to bombers, a DC3 transport and assorted light planes.

The U.N. air force of 15 jet fighters was ordered into action Tuesday by U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant to destroy hostile aircraft and support ground troops.

Differences between Washington and London developed when Britain's Deputy Foreign Secretary Edward Heath declared in London that U.N. forces have no right to impose by force an end to Katanga's secession.

Pa. State Grange Sets Up
Yetter-McSparran
Meeting

A PUBLIC legislative meeting, sponsored by three Monroe County Granges, to discuss H.B. 1259, which would have rewritten the present law under which the State Highway Department acquires land, will be held Wednesday, December 13, at 8:00 p.m. in the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Stroudsburg.

This will be the 22nd legislative meeting this year sponsored by local Granges throughout Pennsylvania in order to enable public officials to meet with members of the Grange and exchange viewpoints on Grange policy. This meeting is being sponsored by Mineola Grange 1453, Cherry Valley Grange 182, and Pocono Grange 1415.

J. Collins McSparran, Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange and Representative Van D. Yetter have been invited to present their opinions regarding H. B. 1259.

The meeting resulted from a controversy started in October during the 80th Annual Session of the Pennsylvania State Grange. At that time, Yetter attacked McSparran for his actions in the last session of the Legislature, in opposing passage of H. B. 1259.

questioned the integrity or good intentions of the Grange, on the contrary I have a great respect and admiration for the Grange.

I was a member of the Grange and my father and mother were very active members of the Grange for many years, when we were engaged in farming.

"Being in the farm machinery business, I have always had the welfare of the farmer, uppermost in mind. If you will check my record you will agree that I have always supported legislation that would be of benefit to the rural people of Pennsylvania.

"I am looking forward to meeting with you and with many Granger friends, Wednesday evening, December 13th."

sage of H. B. 1259, claiming McSparran was doing a disservice to farmers.

Following the attack, the 2,000 delegates attending the annual session of the state's largest agricultural organization unanimously went on record as supporting McSparran's stand.

In announcing the meeting, Richard G. Seidoff, Master of Mineola Grange, spokesman for the sponsors, said, "This meeting resulted from a further attack by Yetter after being informed of the Grange's backing State Master McSparran."

"This attack greatly impugned the integrity of not only our State Master, but also of the entire Grange organization," said Seidoff. "We believe the claims by Rep. Yetter regarding H. B. 1259 have created some impressions that cannot be substantiated by fact."

"The purpose of this meeting is to place the facts concerning the bill and the work the Grange and its representatives did in bringing about its defeat squarely and openly before the public."

"We are particularly anxious to hold this meeting in order to hear Rep. Yetter's viewpoints, for him to hear ours, and to present him with a more complete understanding of how the State Grange reaches the positions it takes on various matters so he will not misunderstand our Master's position in the future."

Rep. Yetter Accepts Invitation

IN A LETTER to Richard G. Seidoff, of Scioto, Master of Mineola Grange, Representative Van D. Yetter yesterday accepted the invitation of the Pennsylvania State Grange to appear at the December 13 meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The text of Mr. Yetter's letter of acceptance follows: "This will acknowledge and thank you for your letter and invitation to attend one of your Grange Meetings.

"I will be happy, to attend a meeting on December 13, as this is the most convenient of the dates you mentioned in your letter."

"Please read my statement about Mr. McSparran's belittling lobbying and misleading statements about our State Government again, and I am sure you will find that I in no way questioned the integrity or good intentions of the Grange, on the contrary I have a great respect and admiration for the Grange.

I was a member of the Grange and my father and mother were very active members of the Grange for many years, when we were engaged in farming.

"Being in the farm machinery business, I have always had the welfare of the farmer, uppermost in mind. If you will check my record you will agree that I have always supported legislation that would be of benefit to the rural people of Pennsylvania.

"I am looking forward to meeting with you and with many Granger friends, Wednesday evening, December 13th."

Increase Red Patrols Along
Route Of U.S. Replacements

BERLIN (AP) — Stepped up East German patrols and Soviet troop movements were reported Wednesday night on the autobahn linking West Germany and Berlin as an American battle group prepared to set out over the 110-mile superhighway.

West German truck drivers told border authorities at the West German checkpoint of Helmstedt of increased autobahn patrols from East Germany.

West German customs officials said they also had reports of Soviet trucks carrying troops over the vital link between the West and Red-encircled Berlin.

The reports came as elements of the 1,500-man 1st Battle Group, 19th U.S. Infantry, reached their staging area near Helmstedt and prepared to move out Thursday for Berlin.

They will replace the 1st Battle Group, 18th Infantry, rushed to Berlin on President Kennedy's orders following the erection of the Communist wall dividing the city last Aug. 13.

The troops will travel over the only road the Communists allow the Western Allies to use through East Germany.

Trucks of the Soviet armed forces in East Germany often use the road and Soviet maneuvers have been reported in areas along it recently.

On the eve of troop transfers, an exchange the U.S. Army calls routine, East Germany asserted that neither the Soviet Union nor East German authorities ever guaranteed free movement of U.S. NATO troops along the West Berlin autobahn.

The statement came from Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer. In an interview with a correspondent of the official East German news agency ADN, Winzer did not refer directly to the march along the lifeline highway due to start early Thursday.

In reply to a question, Winzer confirmed he considers that there is no international legal basis for free movement of Western troops from and to Berlin.

The greater part of the interview was devoted to arguing that U.S. troops which have been moving up and down the autobahn between West Germany and Berlin on training missions were NATO troops.

The official Soviet news agency Tass has called the troop movements "fraught with dangerous consequences."

Winzer asserted that the recent reorganization of the U.S. Berlin command into a brigade put it under the U.S. 7th Army, a NATO army. This, he said, was an aggressive act.

"West Berlin lies on the territory of the German Democratic Republic and does not belong to the NATO state West Germany," Winzer declared.

Walter met with Freeman and other agriculture department officials in October and urged then that potatoes be purchased by the government under the surplus food program.

Pa. Surplus Potatoes To Be Bought For Food Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture department has agreed to purchase potatoes in Pennsylvania and other northeastern states under the surplus food program, Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., reported Wednesday night.

The agreement came, Walter said, after months of negotiations. The potatoes would be allocated to the school lunch program and the food programs for the needy.

Walter, through office aides here, announced that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has approved payment of $1.65 per hundred weight for potatoes in Pennsylvania and four other states in the northeast not coming under the potato diversion program.

Under the diversion program, a Walter aide explained, the government purchases potatoes at low prices for allocation to starch-plant facilities and for use as feed for livestock.

Previously, Walter's office reported Agriculture Department officials had declined requests by the surplus food program. Instead, the department recommended extension of the diversion program which has been applied in other parts of the country.

Walter met with Freeman and other agriculture department officials in October and urged then that potatoes be purchased by the government under the surplus food program.

Plane's Crew Lacked Proper
Maintenance Logs In Crash

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A federal aviation agency inspector testified Wednesday that Imperial Airlines crews could not know what condition their planes were in because aircraft logs were not kept up to date.

Inspector George G. Reid said that two weeks before an Imperial Constellation crashed Nov. 8 near Richmond, Va., with a loss of 77 lives, he told the company to get its logs in shape.

Reid testified at the concluding session of a second hearing called by the Civil Aeronautics Board in its study of the Imperial crash. A previous hearing was held in Richmond. It was announced that a decision will be reached in Washington in three or four months.

"I told them to correct this situation and to write up the trouble log and repairs made on the plane log instead of in the engineer's log or on a piece of paper," Reid said.

Witnesses testified Tuesday that the fuel gauges were not functioning properly at the time of the crash. They also said a used auto part was installed in a fuel pump the day before. The crash occurred when the plane failed to make an emergency landing with two engines out and a third failing.

However, W. F. Poythress of Miami, flight engineer and one survivor of the crash, testified that the used car part—a motor brush—was installed in the No. 2 engine fuel pump and that engine gave no trouble.

Reid said at the time he told the company about the logs he felt it was important for successive crews to know what troubles had developed and what had been done about them.

Powerful Weapons

In recent news dispatches, considerable attention has been drawn to the use of radar equipment by the Pennsylvania State Police in the apprehension of speeders on the highways of the Commonwealth. At the present time, a "test case" on the legality of its use is pending.

Just about every time that a new device or method is devised to catch lawbreakers or incompetent drivers, there is a hue and cry against it and great numbers of the public are led along by the nose in the fallacy that the authorities are trying to put something over on them.

It is a strange reaction — but the public mind has always been gullible. In the first place, the only ones who should gripe about being caught are those who intend to break the law involved. Those who normally abide by the law need not be afraid of any device designed to bring those who break the law to justice.

Down Payment On The Alliance

If he makes his proposed December trip to Venezuela and Colombia, President Kennedy will be serving as a kind of down payment on the Alliance for Progress.

As a gesture, such a visit to the two key democracies should prove dramatic but not very long-lasting in effect. Previous trips by President Eisenhower and Ambassador Stevenson have somewhat devalued the use of public appearances by North American leaders as proof to Latin-American that the better life is on its way.

United States officials now are pouring over complex self-improvement plans presented by some of the nations enrolled in the Alliance for Progress. Studies are being rushed. Economic specialists are meeting by twos and in regional groups. Plans for tax and land reforms are being searched for evidence of enforceability. In short, the "Marshall Plan" for Latin America is being constructed speedily but without the haste that has so often made waste in economic improvement programs.

But the peon in the field (not his

The thought should follow, too, that these devices are for the very protection of many of those who gripe about them. Take the case for radar detection of speeders, for instance.

State police reports on the first two months of the use of radar indicate it is playing a decisive role in cutting down traffic fatalities. A report from the Hazleton area states that fatalities have been reduced there by 50 per cent since September 1. Throughout the state, troopers report that the use of radar on highways cuts down on speed, improves the quality of driving and, of course, makes the apprehension of lawbreakers far more feasible and fair.

In a recent address before the Mayors' Highway Safety Conference in Pittsburgh recently, Governor Lawrence called radar, physical examinations and chemical testing for alcohol "great and powerful weapons in the crusade against senseless human slaughter."

own) knows nothing of this. He knows he is hungry. He knows he is in debt. And he has heard from some Fidelista orator that the Norteamericanos are all getting rich by helping his landlord hold him down.

Planners of the Alliance for Progress ought to be using special task forces of their staffs to work out quickly attainable pilot projects for each major region of Latin America. Each of these should contain such basic examples of self-help as very-low interest loans for one-room prefabricated houses; the use of co-operatives to develop, plow, fertilize, harvest, and market produce; deep wells, schools, and other needed public works built by the unemployed, paid by a combination of surplus American food and money from the new internal taxes on excess profits.

While larger plans are being laid by the alliance nations, such pilot projects would serve to show that Washington is not stopping at aid-by-motorcade in big cities. The silent, increasingly impatient peons need to be reached.

The Pennsylvania Story

Labor-Management Slugfest Due?

Harrisburg — Are organized labor and management in Pennsylvania headed into the woods for a showdown slugfest in the not too distant future?

The question—perhaps curiously—has been posed by labor itself. Indications are strong that state AFL-CIO leaders here in the State Capital quite definitely are concerned over the possibility.

The point has been underscored in the current issue of the "Pennsylvania AFL-CIO News" — to the extent of a half-page editorial on the subject.

Three points are cited by labor reasons for its concern in the present instance:

(1) — "A recent series of bitter work stoppages in Pennsylvania";

(2) — "The appearance of an 'open shop' contractors' group in Philadelphia";

(3) — "Announcement (of the appointment) of two Pennsylvanians on a national 'right-to-work' committee."

Bristles the "AFL-CIO News" editorial:

"Planned or unplanned, if management thinks that forced work stoppages, in many cases based upon union security, will create a climate in Pennsylvania favorable to 'right-to-work' legislation — the organized labor movement is prepared to fight such a move with all its resources."

Specifically the labor publication referred to the "bitter work stoppages" as those at the Yale and Towne Manufacturing Company plant in Philadelphia; the Mack Truck Company strike at Allentown, and the Armstrong-Cork Company strike at Lancaster, as illustrations of refusal on the part of management to go along with "union security" demands.

Perhaps of greatest concern to labor however is the spreading potency and operations of management's own "union" within the builders and contractors field—within the Keystone State.

The organization isn't exactly a newcomer, having been started little over a decade ago and known more formally as the Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc. (ABC).

ABC comprises some 850 members, of which some 50 are in the Philadelphia area, with a chapter now organized in the Lancaster area. Heretofore ABC's major strength has resided in the Maryland area.

One of the purposes of ABC is to organize contractors and to provide legal advice and counsel—"can only end up in a union-busting brawl."

Says ABC past-President Charles H. Feine:

"ABC stands for one underlying principle—the preservation and promotion of the open shop. That is what got us started and that is what got us big. We are not anti-union. Many of our members are union although non-union members predominate."

Does all this presage a legislative movement for enactment of union-hated 'right-to-work' legislation in Pennsylvania? Organized labor in the Keystone State fears this is indeed a possibility and poses this question in the "AFL-CIO News" editorial:

"Is it possible that organized labor faces a situation similar to the infamous days of 1920-21 when employers sought to foist the 'American Plan' upon the public as a means of regulating or breaking the rights of working men to seek better conditions through their unions? Only time will tell—but organized labor had better be prepared for the worst!"

The case unquestionably is interesting—both from the union standpoint and that of management. It could mean much to economically-struggling Pennsylvania. How serious the issue is, may be one of the highlights of the upcoming 1963 legislative session!

The Allen-Scott Report

Agriculture Secretary In Presidential Doghouse

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott
Washington — Interior Secretary Stewart Udall has competition as snafu champion of the cabinet.

Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman also is in the presidential doghouse.

This doesn't mean Freeman or Udall is in immediate danger of being "kicked upstairs"—as recently befell former Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles. It will happen sooner or later, but most likely later.

There are two principal reasons why Freeman, former Governor of Minnesota, is increasingly in dutch at the White House:

His feed grain program is costing a great deal more than he estimated; some experts claim as high as $5 a bushel for corn that wasn't produced. Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon has told President Kennedy Agriculture Department expenditures will add at least $1.1 billion to this fiscal year's multi-billion dollar budget.

Freeman made some speeches that run directly counter to the Administration's favorable views toward the European common market. In an address to the national Grange, a major farm organization, he charged the common market could raise serious trade barriers to U.S. growers.

Warned Freeman, "Protectionism is in the air where agriculture is concerned in Europe today."

In White House circles, no secret was made of displeasure with this kind of dissonant talk from a cabinet member. It was felt that would encourage congressional opposition, particularly from Southern and Midwestern members, to the liberalized trade program the President plans to submit to the approaching legislative session.

Freeman apparently is aware he is in hot water.

He is telling friends, "They're unhappy at the White House about my feed grain program. But they haven't offered anything better, and neither has anyone else for that matter. There's a lot of criticism, but no really constructive alternatives."

Inner council deliberations on the new budget the President submits to Congress next month, Budget Director David Bell has sharply challenged Freeman's fund requests. Bell contends they are far too high and should be pared.

Significantly, the President has sided with Bell.

If and when Freeman does depart, his successor is likely to be Undersecretary Charles Murphy, one-time special counsel to President Truman. A North Carolinian and former Senate specialist on farm legislation, Murphy has influential personal ties in Congress that could be helpful to the Administration.

Freeman, with no Washington background, has lacked this important asset.

Politically — Representative Hale Boggs, La., a senior member of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, has the inside track for Democratic Whip if Representative Carl Albert, Okla., is elected the new Majority Leader. That's agreeable to Representative John McCormack, Mass., slated to be the next Speaker. . . . Albert has the Majority Leadership sewed up despite claims of Representative Richard Bolling's own state delegation, foremost among them Representative Clarence Cannon, chairman of the mighty Appropriations Committee. Albert also has pledges from 13 of the 15 Democratic regional whips, and is confident he will get more than 181 votes. That's 53 more than necessary to win.

Although McCormack has the Speakership pulled down, Representative Albert Rains, Ala., is going to announce for it anyway, for two reasons: Belief the publicity will help him, as he has to run at-large for re-election next year, and to get himself on record for another try for Speaker in the future. . . . Representative Wilbur Mills, Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, has offered to nominate McCormack for Speaker.

The huge new office building the House is erecting (the third) will be named after the late Speaker Sam Rayburn. Both Democratic and Republican leaders are agreed on that. Representative McCormack will offer a bipartisan bill for its purpose. It will also provide for a life-size statue of the noted Texan in the lobby of the new building that will be ready for occupancy in 1963—when the Congress elected next year takes office. . . . Senator Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa, is being urged by some colleagues to make a fight for chairman of the Republican Policy Committee. Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., has a seniority claim to this vacancy created by the death of Senator Styles Bridges, N.H. But some GOP senators feel Hickenlooper is more decisive and want him to run against Saltonstall. He hasn't agreed to that, but he also hasn't said no.

Governor Alf Landon's visit to the White House is his first since Truman left in January 1953. The 1936 Republican presidential candidate avoided Washington throughout the eight years of the Eisenhower Administration because he wasn't asked to the White House. During Truman's regime, Landon had a standing invitation to call whenever he was in the capital. That's been renewed by President Kennedy. Now hale and hearty 74, Landon attributes his good health and vitality to daily horseback rides. Says Landon, "If everyone my age rode horses instead of rocking chairs, they'd be a lot better off in both mind and body."

Inside You And Yours

Deep Freeze Of Bursitis

By Burton H. Fern, M.D.
Typist's shoulder? I can't even type my name!

The typewriter isn't essential. Everyone is vulnerable to bursitis—painful inflammation in a soft lubricating sac (or bursa) that cushions bony points. Infection, irritation and constant wear and tear can all trigger this inflammation.

Bursitis may be called miner's elbow, housemaid's knee or tailor's bottom—but it generally strikes the shoulder. It mimics arthritis.

Painful twinges shoot down your arm and occasionally across your shoulder into the neck. Like a toy soldier, you hold the arm stiffly at your side; the slightest jar makes you see stars. Raw nerve endings scream when you try to lift the arm away from your side.

Painful Swelling
Your doctor can locate the tender bursa with his fingertips. He may even feel the painful swelling.

Bursitis usually fades in a week or so, but it may smolder for months or years. Shrinking scars and chunks of calcium fill and irritate the once-smooth bursa.

Shoulder muscles weaken and wither, and the joint eventually freezes solid.

Aspirins and hot packs can soothe the pain of most early inflammation. If not, try numbing ice packs. Special prescriptions can relieve painful muscle spasm.

Use Sling
Ease the load on your shoulder! Support your arm in a sling when you stand; on a pillow when you sit.

Your doctor may inject cortisone-medicines and Novocain-like chemicals into the bursa to melt inflammation and numb pain. Now you can swing your arm!

Shrinking scars stretch and calcium breaks up and dissolves as inflammation drains into circulation. One shot often cures!

Preventive Exercises
Exercises prevent the frozen shoulder of smoldering bursitis. Swing that stiff, dangling arm gently back and forth—10 or 20 times every few hours. Do the joint stretches, move the arm in other directions—especially out away from your side. Remember, a moving joint gathers no frost!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Castro's Admission

Fidel Castro has now made it clear beyond a doubt that he is a Marxist-Leninist, that is, a Communist of the breed of Soviet Russia. He says that he has been one of them for some time. Therefore, the defenders of Castro, as not being a Communist, are either ignorant or untruthful, Castro said:

"I am a Marxist-Leninist and will be one until the day I die."

Thus we have his own statement of the case and the apologies of Herbert Matthews of "The New York Times" proves to be false. Castro's confession also establishes beyond doubt that those officials of the State Department who are responsible for defending Castro and helping to put him in power were in error and that they ought to be dismissed summarily.

The significance of Castro's admission is not so much that he is a Communist which all informed persons knew to be so and to which Ambassadors Arthur Gardner and Earl E. T. Smith witnessed.

Its significance and importance lie in the inadequate policy-forming in the State Department and the White House which is in too great a measure dependent upon the CIA which is supposed to supply correct and adequate information and never has.

Castro's admission that he is a Marxist-Leninist puts an end to the falsehoods which are being spread by various committees and organizations in favor of what is called a "free" Cuba.

It raises again the question of the reestablishment of the Monroe Doctrine as a fundamental principle of American policy. If we are to intervene, as we are now doing in the Dominican Republic, let us, at any rate, intervene on the right side for a change.

American intervention in European, African, Asiatic and Latin American affairs during the recent decades has been based on the supposition that we are opposed to dictatorships but that we must tolerate dictatorships if they are Communistic because we are opposed to any form of Conservatism and favor every form of "democracy" even if what is called democracy is the dictatorship of the proletariat as devised by Marx and Lenin.

Thus in China, the United States intervened in favor of the Communist regime of Mao Tse-tung and against the pro-American regime of Chiang Kai-shek. Thus, in Korea, we prevented

General Douglas MacArthur from putting an end to a Communist regime. Thus in French Indochina, we made it possible for Ho Chi-minh to establish a Communist state.

Thus, we failed to resist the Soviet effort to establish Communist states out of the defeated power of World War II, which we believed that we were rescuing from Nazi imperialism only to turn them over to Soviet imperialism.

Castro's confession warrants a reorganization of American policy personnel and a revision of American policy throughout the world. When a policy proves to be a failure, it need not be sustained by reactionary bigotry. Our Cuban policy has proved to be a failure and we ought to be ready to revise it.

Prior to the cancellation of the Monroe Doctrine, it was American policy that we did not intervene in the affairs of other countries, but that we also would not tolerate intervention by other countries when such intervention affected our right. Not only the Monroe Doctrine enunciated to this end, but the Open Door Policy regarding China was a similar statement of principle.

Both were based on the fundamental concept of American policy as enunciated by President George Washington in his "Farewell Address." This doctrine advocated the avoidance of intervention in the interest of safeguarding American integrity.

In a word, this policy of non-intervention and resistance to intervention by others on the American continents was fundamental American doctrine until Woodrow Wilson brought this country into World War I. Franklin D. Roosevelt chose to follow Woodrow Wilson rather than George Washington and intervened not only in European affairs but assumed the role of world leadership for which this country was not ready.

Historic evidence established beyond doubt that the policy of non-intervention was sound and beneficial to the United States. We built a great country when we avoided interference in the affairs of others. The British intervened and spent three centuries losing their colonies.

An excellent example of avoidance of European intervention was the resistance to the establishment of Maximilian's kingdom in Mexico.

Twenty years is not a long time but it seems that there are many in this world that have long forgotten Pearl Harbor and its results.

May those that died there or in other battles of the war rest in peace and their memory be carried forever in the heart of every American.

Dr. Reese President Of E-Burg Board

DR. EVAN C. Reese was elected president of the East Stroudsburg Borough School Board at a reorganizational meeting last night. Robert Wright was elected vice president.

Irving Sommers was seated on the board. He replaces Horace Walters. Clyde Schaller, the other board member elected in November, was absent due to sickness.

In other action, James Bunnell, William Lee Jr., Robert Wright and Dr. Reese were named to represent the local district at the meeting of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint School Committee meetings.

Deer Kill Below 1960 In Monroe

MONROE County Game Protectors John Doebling and John Spencer agree that the deer kill in the county is lower this year than last at this time.

Doebling said the figures he had showed the kill about five percent below last year's for the same period.

Spencer stated his reports showed the kill was 10 percent lower than during the same period of last year.

Both stated that this was not an official count but was based on reports from deputy game wardens given to them since the first day of the 1961 season. All the deputies have not made complete reports, they pointed out.

Deer reported killed yesterday to the Daily Record were made by Dick Phillips and John Riley, both of Stroudsburg; Carl Jennings, Tobyhanna, a four-point buck; Samuel Smith, East Stroudsburg, a three-point buck; Harry Smith, Stroudsburg, a three-point buck; Donald Gerhart, East Stroudsburg, two-point buck; Richard Beseker, Cresco, a two-point buck; Tom Thomas, Mount Pocono, a spike buck; George Zelepa, Cresco RD, a six-point buck.

Mrs. Olive Larn, Tannersville, shot a four-point buck while hunting in Cherry Lane Monday at approximately 10 a.m.

Dancers To Appear At ESSC

MYRA Kinch and her company will appear Tuesday at 8 p.m. on the stage of the East Stroudsburg State College auditorium. The program is sponsored by Pocono Community Concert Association.

Miss Kinch is from California and has made many of the residents of the Golden State "take off their sun-glasses" and take note of her work. She is considered one of the brightest and most imaginative dancers. Her dances are dripping with humor and satire as well as the finished touch of the classic ballet.

She has been affiliated with several universities where she taught classic and imaginative dancing for more than 20 years. She also has appeared three times on "Camera Three" as the guest soloist.

Manuel Galea is the musical director of the company. He has served as musical director for the Federal Dance Theater in Los Angeles and was composer for the Experimental Dance Theater of Treasure Island, during the World's Fair in San Francisco, Calif.

Other members: Shirley Jensen, prior to joining the company, danced in the Common Glory in Williamsburg, Va., for three consecutive summers. She was also in the New York City off-Broadway production of the "Anatomist."

Frank Cataldo is a chemist by profession and a dancer by choice. He has appeared in "Where's Charlie?", "Damn Yankees" and "Student Prince." He has also appeared on several television shows.

Highway Sets Date For Bids

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state Highways Department set Jan. 5 Wednesday as the date for taking bids on 17 road projects, including construction work on the Keystone Shortway and Anthracite Expressway.

The Shortway project calls for building 32 piers for a bridge over the North Branch of the Susquehanna River between Millville and Limeridge in Columbia County.

Department aides said the Anthracite projects will fall under two separate contracts—one covering construction of an 8.42 mile stretch of road in Cumberland County and the other a 1.54 mile section in Luzerne County.

The Luzerne job runs from Pittstown Twp. to Dupont Borough and includes five bridges and two concrete culverts. The Cumberland County project calls for four lanes of road, overpasses, ramps, service roads and intersecting highways between Shipensburg and Carlisle.

Fire Code Adopted In Stroudsburg

STROUDSBURG Borough Council last night adopted a fire prevention code ordinance patterned generally along that recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Principal changes written into the local ordinance by George Robinson, borough solicitor, deal with enforcement and with issuance of permits.

The new code permits the fire chief or an inspector appointed by him to enter any building, other than a dwelling, for the purpose of making inspections for fire hazards and permits the chief or his inspector to cite for violations of the code's provisions.

Service of orders for correction of violations will be by the police chief or a member of his department. Permits, which will have a $2 fee, will be issued by the borough manager after inspection of the premises by the fire chief or his designated inspector.

The ordinance also provides for revocation of permits by the borough manager in the event of a violation or misrepresentation in the application.

The fire committee of borough council was set up as the appeal board from decisions of the borough manager.

Stroudsburg Council Gets Month's Data

ES Taxpayers Protest Aid To Airport

MEMBERS of the East Stroudsburg Taxpayers Association voted unanimously to protest to Monroe County Commissioners the appropriation of any more funds to the Mount Pocono Airport Authority.

Members stated "the facts we have on hand lead us to believe this appropriation would not be in the best interests of all the people in the county."

At a recent meeting reports were heard from members who attended the November East Stroudsburg Council, Sewer Authority and School Board meetings.

Plans are being made to have former state senator Montgomery Crowe, address the members at the next regular meeting on Jan. 8, 1962.

Crowe is chairman of the Industrial Committee of the Monroe County Chamber of Commerce.

Romig's Killer Gets Life

WORD was received that Darnel LaMar Jackson, accused killer of Vincent Romig, was sentenced to life in prison with no recommendation for parole.

Jackson was found guilty by a jury in Apopka, Fla., on the charge of shooting Romig in an attempted holdup.

Romig was a former resident of Stroudsburg. He was superintendent of Worthington Mower Co. for 30 years.

He moved from Monroe County in 1951.

11 Families From County 'Remember Pearl Harbor'

By JIM SHAFER
Daily Record Reporter

TODAY is the 20th anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor. While many Americans may have forgotten, two families and nine men from Monroe County will remember it as long as they live.

The families are Sharbaugh and Puzio. Both of these families lost the youngest male member when the Imperial Japanese Navy bombed Pearl Harbor.

The other nine men living do not and have not spoken too much about what did happen there on a day that started out bright and beautiful but ended with gloom and blood.

The men who died there were Harry Sharbaugh and Edward Puzio. Both young men were stationed aboard the USS Arizona which was bombed and sunk at her anchorage on "Battle Ship Row" in the harbor.

Both are still aboard the sunken USS Arizona and are part of the more than 1,000 men that were trapped aboard the ship on that day of infamy.

The other men from Monroe County present that day were Frank Woodrow, Joseph Chiampi, Rudolph Blitz Jr., Thomas Salathe, Joseph Kinnaman, Donald Hauser, Earl Snyder, Paul Ziegenfuss and Barney Garis.

Woodrow, who now resides at 20 Roller St., East Stroudsburg, was aboard the USS California.

He said, "At the time of the attack I was in charge of 20 men on mess duty. We were cleaning up the galley (eating place for men in the Navy) and we heard the bombs."

Saw Planes
"We ran to the top deck and as we came out on the deck we could see the Japanese planes coming in at us shooting their machine guns, dropping bombs and torpedoes," he continued.

Woodrow was not injured and remained there until the captain gave the order to "abandon ship."

The USS California had taken three torpedoes and two near misses from bombs and was sinking at her anchorage in "Battle Ship Row" at Ford Island in Pearl Harbor.

Kinnaman was aboard the USS West Virginia at the time of the attack. He had been on gun watch and went below deck to get a pen from his locker. As he was climbing the ladder (stairway) to return to his gun station a bomb struck his locker.

Barney Garis was stationed somewhere on the island and at the time of the attack was a sergeant in the U. S. Army. His address is unknown.

Another Monroe Countian who just missed being there at the time of the attack was George Kemp. He left the island with his ship for a port in South America several weeks before the Japanese struck the island base.

He is residing in Santa Rosa, Calif., and is the son of Mrs. Emily Kinnaman, of 514 Scott St., Stroudsburg. Kinnaman remained in the U. S. Navy until after World War II and was on another ship which sunk while he was aboard. This time there were no lives lost and he was picked up by another ship after being afloat on rafts for three days in the Pacific Ocean.

Chiampi was serving with the U. S. Marines and had been returned from another island in the Pacific for temporary duty in Pearl Harbor. He was not injured in the attack.

Blitz was stationed at Hickam Field with the U. S. Army Air Corps. He was a gunner aboard one of the bombers stationed there. He was later shot down over the Pacific and was recovered. He resides at 603 E. Broad St., East Stroudsburg, and is employed by Patterson-Kelley Co.

Salathe, presently residing in Los Angeles, Calif., was stationed at Schofield Barracks. A relative of his in Stroudsburg said she was not sure but she thought that he was not injured by the enemy on this day.

Snyder was stationed at Fort Shafter when the Japanese made their bombing raid and strafing runs on the island. He too escaped injury from flying bullets and pieces of exploding bombs. He is now living in Belfast and is employed by Lafayette College in the treasurer's office.

Now a commissioned officer in the U. S. Navy but at the time of the attack an enlisted man, Donald Hauser was stationed aboard the USS Pennsylvania. He is now a lieutenant in the Navy and is stationed in the Norfolk, Va., area.

At Schofield
Paul Ziegenfuss is presently residing in Alexandria, Va., and is employed by the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railroad. He was also stationed at Schofield Barracks when the island was hit by the sneak attackers.

Regional Future Farmers Cited

TWO additional area Future Farmers of America were named yesterday to receive Keystone Farmer degrees during the State Farm Show at Harrisburg Jan. 10.

They are Dale Gum, Pen Argyl, RD 1, and Jerry McLain, Newfoundland. Previously named as recipients of the degree were Stanley P. Koehler, Bangor, RD 2, and Virgil M. Messinger, Ackermanville.

Salathe, presently residing in Los Angeles, Calif., was stationed at Schofield Barracks. A relative of his in Stroudsburg said she was not sure but she thought that he was not injured by the enemy on this day.

Mail Early, Postmasters Request

STRESSING the need for everyone to cooperate on their 1961 "Mail Early For Christmas" Campaign, Postmasters Norman Gregory, East Stroudsburg, and Fred Rhodes, Stroudsburg said yesterday "Early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts is the biggest single factor in getting everything delivered before Christmas."

Naturally, the Post Office Department plans to expand its facilities and to provide extra help during the Christmas rush, but in the final analysis, if you'll follow these three simple rules, you can be certain not to disappoint friends and loved ones on Christmas Day — Wrap your Christmas gifts securely — Be sure they are addressed clearly and correctly — and Mail all your gifts and cards early.

The Postmasters said further, "I hate to see folks take chances on mailing poorly wrapped packages. Despite careful handling every year, too many packages break open in transit and too often we have to puzzle over names and addresses which are incomplete or simply cannot be read at all."

"If you have any articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the Post Office before attempting to mail them," the Postmasters warn. The limits on size and weight of packages varies, depending on where you mail your package from. As an extra precaution against loss, Postmasters Gregory and Rhodes advised placing both your return address and the recipients address inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

If you use Christmas stickers or seals, put them on the back of your Christmas cards and packages so that they will not conflict with the address on the front. Make sure that correct postage is firmly affixed to each card and package. When mailing gifts, it's a good idea to place a piece of transparent cellophane tape over the address portion of the label to prevent defacing it in transit. And always be sure, of course, to include the recipients full name, street address, city, zone and state.

Because the entire Christmas mailing period is primarily a battle against time, "Do it now" is the slogan from here on in. Don't put off your Christmas mailings while you still have ample time, because this means that dreaded pile-ups will occur at the Post Office, causing unavoidable slowdowns in deliveries as the holiday approaches.

The Postmaster asks the cooperation of all business firms to delay mailing circulars and catalogs until after December 25th, to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

The Postmasters said he is more appreciative of the interest and cooperation shown by the mailing public so far, and reminds us that all mail going long distances should be sent by December 10th. Christmas packages for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 15th, and be sure to mail your Christmas cards for nearby destinations at least a week before Christmas.

RESERVATIONS for the annual Christmas banquet of the Pocono Garden Club should be placed with the secretary, Mrs. Robert C. Fralley, RD 3, Stroudsburg, not later than Wednesday, Dec. 6.

The banquet will be held at the Bartonsville Hotel, on Tuesday night, Dec. 12, at 6:30. A turkey dinner will be served. Club members may bring guests.

Members are urged to place exhibits, but in not more than three classes, one entry to a class.

The Pageant will depict, in realistic costume, the journey of the wise men and the shepherds to the manger in Bethlehem.

Other members of the cast are: Shepherds — Raymond LaBarre and his son, Kim; Earl Bush and his son, Buddy; and John Ferrel, Jr.

Wise men — Melchior, Michael Jacobella; Balthasar, George Miller; Kaspar, Jack Swineford.

The annunciation Angel, Kathy Cooke; The Inn Keeper, Dale H. Learn; Mary and Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pryse.

Supporting the cast will be the children's choirs under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Currier.

WSCS Group To Hold Yule Party Dec. 13

NEWFOUNDLAND—The annual Christmas dinner party of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the South Sterling Methodist Church will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 13, at South Sterling, with the women of Hemlock Grove and LaAnna as invited guests.

There will be a covered dish dinner at noon, and an exchange of 50 cent wrapped gifts, each with name of the giver enclosed. There will be a program in the afternoon under the direction of Mrs. Norris Scott and Mrs. Allen Robacker. Mrs. Clarence Skelton and Mrs. Robert Voeste are in charge of decorations for the event.

De-Stalinizing In Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Two public Stalin monuments were removed Tuesday night in Sofia, capital of Communist Bulgaria, Tanjug, the Yugoslav news agency, reported Wednesday.

The agency said that Stalin's bust was removed from the building of the Supreme Court in the street that still carries the name of Stalin, and portraits and busts of Stalin are being removed from all state buildings.

The earth's magnetic field seems to be weakening and scientists do not know why.

MRS. WALTER PRYSE is cast as Mary in Christmas Pageant at E. Stroudsburg Methodist Church, Dec. 10.

Regional Boatmen Invited

AN INVITATION has been extended to regional boatmen to attend a meeting Tuesday night at 8 at High Point Inn, Mount Pocono, to discuss organization of a school by the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary.

The session is being called through the efforts of the Pennsylvania Pleasure Boat Association and the Lake Wallenpaupack Yacht Club.

The course is seamanship and small boat handling will be outlined by Lt. E. D. Cassidy and other Coast Guard officers. On the regional level, the meeting is being arranged by Richard Jackson of Moscow; Thomas Gangwere, of Greentown and Carl Kennedy, Peckville.

The committee said the meeting will be an exploratory one in efforts to develop sufficient interest to conduct the course covering the fundamentals of small boat handling.

The course comprises two hours of instruction one night a week for eight weeks. It is

ESSC Teacher's Seating As State Group Head Today

MISS Genevieve C. Zimbar, professor of Health and Physical Education at the East Stroudsburg State College, will be installed today as the new president of the State Assn., of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, at the association's annual convention in Pittsburgh.

Miss Zimbar, who has taught at the local college since 1923, will be the second person from ESSC to be so honored within the past five years. John A. Eiler, of the health and physical education department, was president several years ago. He now is a member of the group's executive council.

Runs Through Saturday

The convention will run through Saturday, and most of the association's 2,000 membership is expected to attend. From the local college, in addition to Miss Zimbar, the following plan to attend: Dr. Frank Sills, Dr. Richard Luce, Dr. Charles Wolbers, Miss Marian Gates, Miss Betty Hilleman, Miss Joanne McKeag and John R. Eiler.

Miss McKeag will present an original research paper before the research committee sectional meeting, Friday. Her topic is, "Effects of Manual Resistance Exercises Upon Muscle Strength and Endurance of College Women." The data for this paper was obtained by the writer from her class work and observations made at ESSC during the past winter and summer school sessions.

Art Of Seeing

By MARCIA CLAPP

HAVE YOU seen this charming child holding his pet squirrel by a gold chain? This painting is in the Verplanck room at the Metropolitan Museum along with fine furniture, silver and objects belonging to this family.

Having personally known one of the descendants, Judith Verplanck, it is easy to confirm that John Singleton Copley was an able portrait painter, as the strong facial characteristics in this portrait were evidenced in her face.

Copley, who lived from 1737 to 1815, began his career as a portrait painter in Boston at the age of fifteen. His first training was under his stepfather, the engraver Peter Pelham. He copied numberless engravings which developed his ability for precise drawing and accurate observation of details.

It is his clarity of vision and capacity for depicting character as well as painstaking work in executing over a hundred portraits upon which his fame rests as a significant colonial artist. In 1817 John Adams wrote about Copley's portraits that "you can scarcely help discoursing with them, asking questions and receiving answers."

Architectural Details

He used architectural details such as these columns and landscape in the distance which were imaginary settings to enhance the painting. However, the eye is brought up short by the defects of these details which are flattened and lack spatial depth when related to the actual objects which he observed.

Notice the convincing strength of the figure and squirrel in its pictorial honesty contrasted to these shallow background props. The buckles on the boots and the three buttons at the breeches as well as the ruff at the neck depict an elegant little colonial boy whose fine satin vest is in danger of being scratched by the little squirrel.

The latter part of his life he spent in England painting historical scenes attaining fame as his reputation and art declined thru poor health, spending his last years in tragic frustration and loneliness.

Although he suffered in America thru the limitations of portrait painting and the narrow-mindedness of his patrons it is this period of his life which was the most fruitful. He left a notable collection of superb portraits that is part of our national treasure.

WELCOME WAGON

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

During most of the year, the general public remains quite oblivious of the old, the sick, the mentally ill, the shut-in. Come the holidays — particularly Christmas — and a sort of minor traffic jam develops as everybody suddenly all at once.

How much the old folks enjoy the sudden flood of attention, I don't know — but it's a very salutary thing for the visitors. In addition to being brought face to face with a whole new world, it also confronts them with the fact that there are a lot of people who don't forget all the rest of the year.

How I know is because I'm one of you, and although my own visits to the County Home, for instance, have no personal virtue because they are in the course of my work, the experience is always a rewarding one.

There were the hairdressers working harder and faster, probably, than they would in their own shops for money. The Gray Ladies, of course, are also year-round workers. And the Junior Woman's Club send Christmas cookies every month.

Then there are the individuals who invite residents to go for a drive on a beautiful Sunday when the leaves are bursting in Spring or turning in the Fall.

Churches conduct regular services; young people's church or Scout groups go carolling or entertaining. The Grace Lutheran Fellowship, I notice, has broadened its schedule to include the jail and nursing homes as well.

But whether we go as groups or individuals, once a year or every week, by accident or necessity, the benefits are more ours than those we visit. Anything which lifts our eyes from our own little rut, which turns our thoughts from our own little concerns, and makes our hearts ache with hurts not our own is good for us.

FLYING FINGERS not only raise the beauty standards but the morale of the County Home. Taking their turn this week and representing the 19 local hairdressers who give their time, talent, material and equipment to the project are Kay Frable of Kunkletown and Dorothy Rodenhauer of Stroudsburg. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Year Of Time And Beauty, Gift To County Home

There are many ways of giving. The easiest is the spare change dropped in a kettle when the heart is melted by the Christmas spirit. The hardest is the gift of time, given week in and week out all year long.

Such a gift, often unrecognized except by the grateful recipients, is the gift of beauty given by hairdressers participating in the program at the Monroe County Home.

For the residents, hair cuts, shampoos and sets are given once every two weeks. Permanent are given on Saturday each month, with anywhere from six to eight permanents each Saturday. This means that each woman who needs a permanent gets one every three or four months.

Every woman can realize what that means—especially on the days when her own shampoo is long overdue, she hasn't had time to put it up and feels as miserable as she looks, not only socially but almost physically.

All work, material and equipment is donated so that the project costs the county nothing.

What it cost the hairdressers who in 1961 donated 576 hours of their time, they feel is amply repaid in satisfaction.

They also got a big boost this year when the Business and Professional Woman's Club donated $100 to pay the materials they use in shampoo, permanents, wave lotion, creme rinses and the rest.

Evelyn Van Gordon and Dotte Kester are co-ordinators of the project, and have listed the following local hairdressers who have participated in the service by contributing service or supplies or both:

Claire Topham, Pocono Lake; Kay Frable, Kunkletown; Joan Singer, Reeder; Doris Bush, Delaware Water Gap; Florence Metzgar and Frieda Fabie, Kellersville; Dorothy Rodenhauer, Ellenberger; Millie Everitt, Carolyn Wilder, Helen Sunday, Ann Custard, Ella Mae Torzillo, Jan Kuschner and Mary Brong, Stroudsburg; and Catherine Abels, Dorothy Secor and Dotte Kester, East Stroudsburg.

Philadelphia Sticky Buns Popular Here As Well

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

Thank Philadelphia for giving us sticky buns. While Pennsylvania cooks argue over just how they should be made, the rest of us can enjoy various versions. Should the buns be fat or should they be thin? Should they use raisins or currants? Should they be very rich and very sweet?

Stay out of the alteration! A friend of ours makes the best medium fat, medium rich, and medium sweet sticky buns we've ever tasted; our advice to you is just go along with her recipe. Follow directions and you'll have perfect yeast-raised texture, wonderful flavor.

Sticky Buns

- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine

- 1/2 cup very warm water
- 2 packages active dry yeast
- 1 egg
- 4 cups (about) sifted flour

Filling and Syrup

- Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and 4 tablespoons butter; cool to lukewarm. Measure very warm water into a large bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, egg and half the flour; beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto a lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic—about 8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour. Punch down; divide in half. Roll each half out on lightly floured board to make a 9-by-14-inch rectangle. Spread with 1 tablespoon of the remaining (soft) butter; sprinkle with half of Filling. Roll up from 9-inch side. Seal edges firmly. Cut into 1-inch pieces; place cut side down in one of the pans holding the cool Syrup mixture. Repeat with the remaining dough, butter and filling. Cover; let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk—about 45 minutes. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 35 minutes. At once invert pans on plates; allow pans to remain on rolls a minute. Remove pans; cool rolls. Makes 1 1/2 dozen.

Filling And Syrup

- 1 1/2 cups dark brown sugar (firmly packed)
- 1/2 cup currants (rinsed in hot water and drained)
- 1/4 cup chopped pecans
- 1 tablespoon cinnamon
- 1 cup dark corn syrup
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix 1/4 cup brown sugar with currants, pecans and cinnamon; reserve for filling buns. Mix remaining 1 cup brown sugar with corn syrup and butter in small saucepan. Bring to a boil, stirring, over moderate heat. Remove from heat and pour into two greased 9-inch round cake pans; cool. Sticky Buns will be placed in these pans.

Jingle Bell Hop

A Jingle Bell Hop, sponsored by the East Stroudsburg Band Mothers, will be held Friday night at 8 in the high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Pullen President Of St. Mary's Guild

Mrs. Harvey T. Pullen was elected president of St. Mary's Guild, Christ Episcopal Church at their meeting held on Tuesday in the parish hall.

Other officers elected included: Mrs. Robert L. White, vice president; Mrs. Clarence D. Kern, secretary; Mrs. Otto G. Heins, treasurer.

Rev. Charles A. Park, rector, thanked Mrs. William Andrew and other retiring officers for their fine work in guiding the work of the guild. He stressed the place of the laity in the church and the meaning of missions and the season of Advent, whose fulfillment is the coming of Christ at Christmas.

Mrs. Andrew presided at the business meeting when the Guild voted to give $100 to the vestry to be applied to the building fund. A Christmas remembrance will be given to Miss Amy Oates.

It was also announced that the Guild will present Christ Church with a Book of Remembrance, within whose covers all gifts to the church will be entered with the names of the donors.

Miss Grace DePue reported on her visit to the Allentown State Hospital with other members of the Monroe County Council of United Church Women, when they delivered the 260 Christmas stockings for the patients, a project of the council.

Mrs. Andrew presented the guild with a basket to be used as a traveling basket, passing from one member to another to be filled with baked goods to be purchased. Mrs. A. Starr Phelps led the devotion. Hostesses were Miss Anne G. Reed, assisted by Mrs. Roy M. Houser and Mrs. L. H. Cross.

Past Matrons Plan Party

Greentown — The Past Matrons of Greene-Dreher Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will have their Christmas party at 7:30 p.m. on December 15 at the home of Mrs. Stella Gillner, Sterling, according to plans completed at the home of Mrs. Ethel Schoenagel. There will be an exchange of $1 gifts.

Present for the meeting, at which Mrs. Verna Simons presided, were Stella Gillner, Edith Schoenagel, Lillian Akers, Jennie Haag, Elva Woltjen, Eugenia Robacker, Mrs. Simons and the hostess.

Dr. Sills On Fitness For Parents Meeting

Dr. Frank D. Sills, a member of the four-man committee appointed by Gov. Lawrence to serve on the advisory board on the physical fitness program for Pennsylvania, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of St. Matthew's Parents Assn. at the school auditorium on Monday night.

Dr. Sills, Ph. D., is head of the department of physical education and athletics at East Stroudsburg State College. He will cover the many phases of the national and state physical fitness program and explain how it can be applied to the particular school set-up at St. Matthew's.

A group of children will demonstrate fitness skills. Assisting Dr. Sills in the demonstration will be Miss Genevieve Zimbar, head of the women's division of the department. The program will begin at 8 with a business meeting to follow.

At the business meeting plans will be considered for the Children's Christmas party to be held later in the month. Holiday refreshments will be served by third grade mothers with Mrs. Robert Davenport as chairman.

Madonnas For Juniors Dec. Meeting

A small part of Madalyn Maloney's collection of 6,000 copies of madonnas was on display at the meeting of the Junior Woman's Club on Tuesday night when Mrs. Maloney told some of the touching and human stories behind them.

She also gave a brief resume on the lives of some of the artists.

At the business meeting, the club voted to participate in the state Junior program "A Day in Court." Mrs. Joseph McCuskey announced that all club members have been invited by Judge Fred W. Davis to observe court proceedings on Monday, Dec. 11, beginning at 9:30 a. m. at the court house.

Mrs. Stanley Grace won two tickets to the Christmas dance as a bonus for getting the most new members. At present 26 new members have been accepted into the club and will be inducted at the January meeting.

The Christmas dance will be held Dec. 29, at Mount Airy Lodge. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Paul Edinger, Jr., at HA 1-8963 or Mrs. Earl Warner at HA 1-5338.

There will be no December board meeting because of the Christmas holidays.

Refreshments were served from a tea table decorated for Christmas with Mrs. Fred Jones and Mrs. Jo McDowell pouring. The hospitality committee was headed by Mrs. Howard Coslett and Mrs. James Acker.

Noontime Prayers For Peace To Mark Second Week Of Advent In Boroughs; In Series Sponsored By Churchwomen

The second week of the Advent season has been designated as a week of Prayers for Peace in Monroe County by the county's Council of United Church Women.

Beginning next Monday the sanctuaries of mid-town churches in both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg will be open for prayer and meditation between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. each day.

During those hours, the sanctuaries will be quiet. There will be no services and the prayers will be the private prayers of individual worshippers.

The power of prayer for the world and the need of the individual for personal meditation and prayer are the reasons behind the special week of prayer. The hours have been set so that women could pause in their Christmas shopping to consider the real Gift of Christmas, men during their lunch hour could stop in for as long or short a period as they wish.

The committee has designated the Presbyterian Church in Stroudsburg and the Methodist Church in East Stroudsburg for these community worship services.

Mrs. Claude Leister, president of the county council, has named the following committee: Mrs. Clifford Cramer, Mrs. Nathan Meyer, Mrs. Townsend Little, Mrs. Paul Compton, Mrs. Edith Courtright, Mrs. Milton Mery, Mrs. Stephen Mery, Mrs. J. Fred Quig, Miss Rose Nils, Miss Margaret Nils, Mrs. Donald Heller, Mrs. Enos Siproth, Mrs. John Dunkelberger, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Miss Sandra Selwood, Mrs. David Kohn, Mrs. Gertrude McCarthy, Miss Grace DePue, Mrs. Roy Houser, Mrs. Homer Heller, Mrs. Elton Denning and Mrs. Edward C. Hess.

Highland Fling For Bridal Shower For Lois Miller

Barrett — Mr. and Mrs. John Frew Hay gave demonstrations of Scotch dancing at the bridal shower held in honor of Miss Lois Ann Miller on November 18.

Mrs. Stanley Miller and Mrs. Naomi Riess were co-hostesses of the party which was held in the recreation room of Naomi Cottages. Wedding bells and streamers decorated the room. A three tier wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom on top centered the table which held the gifts.

Wearing clan Hay tartans, Mr. and Mrs. Hay danced the Highland Fling for the guests. Attending were: Mrs. Ruth Courtright, Mrs. Isaac Siglin, Mrs. George Stewart, Mrs. Ronald Dally, Mrs. Jacob Wolbert, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, Jr.; Mrs. Norman Mosier, Miss Gloria Jean Wolbert, Miss Nancy Price, Miss Lynn Price and Mrs. James Price.

Other guests were: Mrs. Harry Price, Mrs. Adam LaBar, Mrs. Esther Hughes, Mrs. Harold Bird, Mrs. Russell Edinger, Mrs. Raymond Ace, Mrs. Harold Miller, Mrs. John Lessine, Mrs. Arthur Frey, Mrs. Russell Dyson and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Simons.

Mrs. Bruce Bird, Mrs. Robert Mosher, Mrs. Floyd Warner, Mrs. Emily Metzgar, Mrs. Frank Custard, Mrs. Marland Halterman and Mrs. Herbert Halterman joined the party.

Mr. and Mrs. John Frew Hay, Mrs. Stanley Miller, Mrs. Naomi Riess and maid of honor, Miss Betty Ward extended best wishes to the guest of honor, Miss Lois Miller.

Miss Miller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Miller, Cresco. She will become the bride of Kenneth Miller, Stroudsburg, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Miller in a 4 p.m. ceremony at the Mountainhome Methodist Church on January 27.

Unable to attend the festivities, but sending gifts and best wishes were: Mrs. Karl Rothers, Mrs. Florence Hasenfus, Mrs. David Hutchison, Mrs. Henry Price, Mrs. Earl Price, Mrs. Thomas Heller, Mrs. Elsie Heron, Mrs. Carl LaBar, Mrs. Edmund LaBar, Mrs. Martha Price, Miss Carolyn Stewart and Mrs. Wilmer Metzgar.

The Wyckoff Shopper

"the friendly store" A.B. Wyckoff STROUDSBURG, PA.

CALLING ALL ORGANIZATIONS! CALLING ALL ORGANIZATIONS! Dorothy Laubach, buyer for our Wyckoff candy department, wishes to remind you that all groups wishing to order boxes of candy for Christmas must do so before the weekend. SATURDAY is the absolute deadline. Packages of half pound size are available in either famous make chocolates or hard candy mix at a very reasonable price, but it will be impossible to accept orders after this week.

One of the most Christmas decorations in our store is a wreath hanging against a side wall mirror in our Notions department. The wreath is of natural greens; the adornments are bright red, apple-shaped pin cushions from our stock. That Amy Ellenberger's a clever gal! ... Amy also displays a Christmas package any woman who sews would be charmed to find beneath her tree. It is wrapped in gold and tied with a brilliant red bow from which are suspended three spools of thread—one gold, one red, one holly green.

All of this makes me think about special gifts for persons with special hobbies—like sewing, for instance. What would be more suitable or more welcome than a few yards of fabric, a pattern perhaps, and maybe such additional items as buttons, zipper and thread, wrapped as Amy suggests? I can't think of anything more thoughtful or "right" ... can you?

Which brings up another point; many of us overlook the fact that a person with a hobby sometimes finds that hobby a bit on the expensive side. My own interest is Madonnas, as many of you know, but there are hundreds of reproductions in my collection that I have never framed because of the expense. One of the most thoughtful gifts I ever received was a pretty picture frame, quite empty, and just waiting for the proper Madonna to be inserted. I had a wonderful time trying dozens before I finally found one whose robe was the exact blue-gray of the molding.

That was years ago, but I still recall the gift and the donor while countless other gifts, more costly perhaps, have been forgotten. This is why I recommend hobby gifts ... paints, canvases, easels, tracing papers, and such for the artist; books for the dedicated reader; puzzles for the puzzle-and-game addict; needlework, the accessories and tote bags that go with it, for the Art Goods enthusiast. Of course, if a woman would rather paint her face than a canvas, there's always the Cosmetic department, and I'm in favor of THAT too!

Our store is bursting at the seams with everything beautiful for Christmas, and no store anywhere has more DOLLS than we! They're even in our Gift department: delightful novelties such as the tiny teen ager, smartly dressed, and swinging her books from a strap, at only 75c; the cute little rag doll that sits and can hold her own rag doll, at 1.98; the rubber headed dolls with stringy silk hair at 1.00 and, best of all, the adorable little girl dolls that stand perhaps eight inches high, have blond hair piled atop their heads, are dressed in red cover-all pajamas, and are carrying red stockings for Santa to fill. These too are just 1.00, and they shout Merry Christmas from the very top of their head to their little bottoms—yes'm, that's exactly what I mean, for when you turn them around a big, white NOEL is printed across the drop seat of their PJs.

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — The organized labor rift widened yesterday as building trades charged rival industrial unions and missile manufacturers with engaging in a job-pirating conspiracy.

C. J. (Neil) Haggerty, president of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, leveled bitter personal charges at Walter P. Reuther and the AFL-CIO Industrial Unions Department which the United Auto Workers president also leads.

In a keynote address to the building trades convention, Haggerty said Reuther's industrial unions and missile makers had conspired "through the presentation of biased testimony" to a Senate committee in Washington last spring to undermine building trades work opportunities at missile bases.

Stroud Union Seeks State Answer On School Addition

Record Harrisburg Bureau — HARRISBURG, Dec. 7 — Stroud Union School Board yesterday requested the State Department of Public Instruction to determine whether an addition to Stroud Union High School in Stroudsburg is justified.

The department advised the local school board that before a study to make the determination would be scheduled, the Monroe County Board of School Directors are required to submit to the department certification of the need for the addition under any future reorganization of school districts as required by law enacted by the 1961 Legislature.

According to the local school board the addition to the high school is necessary to provide adequate accommodation for the present pupil enrollment and that expansion of facilities is required to care for additional school districts planning to became part of Stroud Union School District. The board said that capacity of the high school after completion of the addition would be 1,430 pupils. Capacity of the existing building is 950 pupils. Present attendance was placed at 1,263 by the board.

Probable cost of the addition to the high school was placed by the school board at $800,000. Cost of the project would be financed locally by issuing municipality authority bonds, the school board said.

Notre-Dame-Syracuse Had Tame Ending

IF YOU THINK the ending of the Syracuse-Notre Dame football game was mixed-up—well it was like a West Point drill team compared to the finish of the Canadian Professional League championship.

The championship is decided on a two game basis. The team with the most points in both games wins. Toronto won the first game 25-7 and was losing the second game 20-2 to Hamilton with only minutes left to go. Both teams were tied 27-27 in total points.

To understand the finish, you must know something about Canadian rules. The field is 110 yards long with 25-yard long end zones. The scoring is the same except that any kick that goes over the end zone counts a point for the kicking team and any kick that is not run out of the end zone, also counts a point for the kickers. Such kicks are called "rouges."

There is no blocking allowed on punt returns and no such thing as a fair catch. Every punt must be run back. The punt receiver does get one break—the defensive team must stay 10 yards away from him until he touches the ball.

So that's the set-up, now here's the finish.

Toronto Decides On Rouge Attempt

Toronto has the ball and needs one point to win the championship. The Argonauts decide to go for a rouge but fail to run the clock almost out before they boot. Well two plays later and are thrown for losses. Only three plays are allowed for a first down in the league.

On last down the Argos call on punter Dave Mann to boot the rouge. Mann has to kick from his 36 so it will take a 70-yard kick to score the point.

Hamilton, hoping to force an overtime period, sends three receivers deep. Mann boots and Don Sutherin pulls the ball down in the end. Sutherin realizing that he is trapped in the end zone, promptly kicks the ball back to Mann. Mann joins the spirit of things and kicks again, still trying to get the ball through the end zone. But this kick is short.

Former Maryland All-American Bernie Faloney, the league's most valuable player, grabs the ball on the three yard line and takes off. His American player teammates throw block after block as Faloney runs 107 yards for a touchdown. But since blocking is illegal on punts, Hamilton is penalized.

Rote Has Impossible Choice

Tobin Rote, Argos captain, refuses the penalty, because he doesn't want the Cats to have a chance at a rouge kick. But what Rote doesn't realize was that he is trapped. If he refuses the penalty the touchdown will stand and Hamilton wins. If he accepts the penalty, Hamilton will be allowed one more play (even though the game was over) and the Tiger-Cats are in good position to kick a rouge.

Rote refuses the penalty but the officials goof. They send the game into overtime with the score tied. No one realized that Hamilton had won.

The Tiger-Cats took no chances in the overtime, scoring 28 points to win the title.

The next day, someone discovers that Faloney's TD should have been allowed and the overtime should not have been played. Now what would have happened if Toronto had won the game in overtime?

Compromise Plan May Settle Basketball Control Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise plan to set up a delicate balance of power between colleges and the Amateur Athletic Union in control of U.S. basketball was received Wednesday with cautious optimism.

"It appears to be a step in the right direction," was the sentiment of those who could comment.

Many, however, preferred to withhold comment until they had studied the plan by Louis G.

Wilke to resolve the bitter power battle between the AAU and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

There were no unfavorable comments during the meeting of the NCAA, AAU and other groups interested in amateur basketball.

Cage Problem

Key issue in the squabble is control of U.S. representation on the Federation of International Basketball Associations, now held by the AAU.

Wilke of Bartlesville, Okla., is FIBA vice president and was chosen to mediate the dispute after the NCAA-dominated college group sought recognition by FIBA at the 1960 Rome Olympics of a new U.S. basketball federation instead of the AAU.

Wilke's plan appeared to be a compromise between conflicting proposals submitted by the AAU and NCAA at the group's last meeting. Wilke asked for written comments by Dec. 27.

He said he would study the replies, then report to FIBA either asking for more time because he thought there was a chance to work out a compromise or tossing the dispute in the lap of the world body for solution.

N. J. Barack of Columbus, Ohio, immediate past AAU president said the proposal was "A step forward. . . it would share what the AAU at the present has for itself."

Barack and other AAU officials declined further comment.

Must Study

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said: "I can't say how often our group will react to it until we've had a chance to study the proposal. I will say this, however: I am hopeful that we can solve this within the United States without having to go back to the world body."

Clifford B. Fagan, executive director of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, and John J. Knight of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics both commented the plan.

Under Wilke's proposed National Amateur Basketball Council, the high schools and the NAIA, representing the small colleges, would get a voice they now lack in basketball affairs.

Injured Driver Leaves Hospital

The 45-year-old Oklahoma said he had no immediate plans. His over-all record in nearly four years with the Cards is 15-31-2. The team figured to challenge for the division title this season, but dropped because of an uncommon number of injuries to key players.

Seven of the offensive linemen who started the campaign won't finish it, due either to injuries or service callups. The backfield, too, was hit hard by injuries.

Becker, Barkman Selected For All-America Mention

END Ed Becker and halfback Toby Barkman of East Stroudsburg State College, have been named to the honorable mention squad of the 1961 Associated Press Little All-American Football Team.

Is is the second year that Becker, a senior has been named to the squad and the first time for Barkman, a sophomore.

Both players were named to the first team of the Pennsylvania State College Conference squad.

Becker, a 6-3, 215 pounder from Quakertown, was on the draft lists of several pro clubs but was dropped when he tore some ligaments in his left knee in the Warriors' final grid game against Cortland. However, Becker may still sign with a pro club as a free agent.

Led Warriors

For two years, Becker has led the Warriors in pass receiving and last year was selected by the NAIA on its first defensive All-American team. Becker was also selected to play in the Copper Bowl All-Star game this year but the injury cancelled the trip.

Barkman, from Chester, N. J., was fifth in the nation in scoring this season with 90 points. He lost the state scoring title to Jim Pribula of West Chester by a point. Barkman was the top scorer in the conference this year with 78 points and his 13 league touchdowns were a record. He was second in the nation in yards per carry, averaging 7.6 yards a try.

Barkman accomplished these feats despite a six-inch steel plate in his right leg as the result of a serious automobile accident three years ago.

Barkman's father Ralph, was a Little All-America at Schuylkill Seminary in the 1920's. Schuylkill is now Albright College.

Dick Wolslayer and Sterling Brown were picked on the honorable mention squad along with Becker last year.

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburg, Kan., State, unbeaten champion of the small colleges, provides fullback Gary Snadon for the 1961 Little All-America football team chosen Wednesday by The Associated Press.

Snadon is the workhorse of the Kansas Gorillas, who powered their way through a nine-game schedule without defeat, then bounced Northern State of South Dakota out of the preliminary round of the NAIA championship series. The Kansans play in the Camelia Bowl at Sacramento this Saturday.

Others in the Little All-America backfield are Leroy Jackson of Western Illinois, already drafted by both Cleveland of the National League and Boston of the American; Bobby Jancik of Lamar Tech and Joe Iacone of West Chester (Pa.) State.

Headed By Jacobs

In front of these outstanding all carriers is a line that averages 6-foot-2 in height and 218 pounds. It is spearheaded by Ray Jacobs, a 270-pound tackle from Howard Payne College in Brownwood, Tex. He, too, was drafted by both leagues during the past week. Houston chose him as its No. 1 pick in the American and Dallas of the NFL also tabbed him.

Others in the forward wall are ends Drew Roberts of Humboldt State and Powell McClellan of Arkansas Tech; guards Dan Lewis of Wofford and Wendell Williams of the State College of Iowa; center Curtis Mirand of Florida A&M and tackle David Baxter of Tennessee Tech.

No Pennsylvania colleges were represented on the second or third teams.

The honorable mention list included: Ends: Dennis Duttry of Lock Haven; Ed Becker, East Stroudsburg State.

Tackles: Bernard Santaniello, Millersville (Pa.) State; Michael Semsheski, Lehigh; William Lites, Temple; Thomas Nolan, Penn Military.

Centers: John Dishaw, Penn Military. Guards: Thomas Alexander, Bucknell; William Crowell, Juniata; Ben Difrancesco, Susquehanna.

Backs: Gary Chapman, Albright; Charles Kuntzleman, Muhlenberg; Fred Peightal, Lock Haven; Earl Little, Gettysburg; Toby Barkman, East Stroudsburg State.

Warriors' Face Textile Tonight In Philadelphia

EAST STROUDSBURG State College an 87-71 loser in its basketball opener Tuesday, travels to Philadelphia Textile Institute tonight.

Last year the Warriors set a single game scoring record in beating the Philadelphia five 108-93 at Normal Hill.

Even though the school is almost unheard of outside of Philadelphia, Textile has two of the finest players in the state in Herb Magee and Junius Johnson. Last year Johnson scored 33 points against East Stroudsburg.

His skills admittedly corroded by time, Robinson is still around with two important goals—to win the middleweight title for the sixth time and to challenge Archie Moore for the light heavy-weight crown.

In his last outing Nov. 20, the 40-year-old boxing master floored Al Hauser four times and won on six-round technical knockout at Providence, R.I.

Face Bears Tuesday

E-Burg Loaded With Vets As It Preps For Opener

IF AN ANKLE injury to Brian Farris heals quickly, East Stroudsburg High School could have four returning starters in its lineup when it opens its basketball season Tuesday.

The Cavaliers are at Pleasant Valley for the kickoff game of a 17 contest slate.

It will be one of the shortest schedules the school has played in several seasons and it will be the first time that its Lehigh-Northampton League campaign will not be split into two halves.

When several new teams were added to the league last year, it was split into two divisions. East Stroudsburg will play in the northern division, along with Hellertown, Wilson Boro, Nazareth, Pen Argyl and Bangor. The Cavaliers will play each team twice. The winners of each division will meet for the league title.

Others May Report

Cavalier coach Doug Schoonover has 12 candidates for the varsity squad with the possibility of picking up two more, Farris and John Mosher. Mosher was a junior varsity performer last year but has not yet reported for basketball practice. Farris sprained an ankle during the football season and while the injury healed enough for him to play football there is still some doubt if he will be able to play basketball.

The other holdover starters are Don Wescott, Glen Kane and Harold Myers. According to Schoonover, Wescott and Kane will be in his starting lineup Tuesday but the other three positions are still open.

The rest of the Cavalier roster lists Bob Smith, Harold Kimbel, Jim Steele, Craig Manchester, Bill Williams, Earl Palmer, George Hack, Jack Van Horn and Harry Van Vliet. Palmer, Hack, Van Horn and Van Vliet were on the varsity squad last year and Kimbel and Steele also saw some varsity action toward the end of the campaign.

The Cavaliers were handicapped by the football season. Most of the basketball players also played football and Schoonover was an assistant basketball coach. That meant that full scale practice did not get under way until Nov. 27.

Cooper, Floyd Had Secret Pact Before Folley Battle

By JOHN FARROW

Associated Press Sports Writer LONDON (AP)—Henry Cooper's upset knockout loss to American Zora Folley Tuesday night cost the British champion a title fight with heavyweight king Floyd Patterson in London, June 5, promoter Jack Solomons disclosed Wednesday.

Solomons said the deal had been made with Patterson's manager, D'Amato already has barred Sonny Liston, the No. 1 contender from Philadelphia, until the reinstated husky "removes certain obstacles. Liston knows what he has to do to get a title fight."

D'Amato declined to elaborate. Folley, jubilant over his victory, said he wanted to meet Patterson and would be willing to fight Liston again for the chance at the title. Liston knocked out Folley in the third round July 18, 1960.

This was the second time Cooper has lost a chance to fight for the world title.

Cooper lost his first opportunity at Patterson in 1959 when he doubled his asking price to $140,000, and was turned down by D'Amato. The Briton had outpointed Folley on Oct. 14, 1958 and then won the British Title by beating Brian London.

Folley Scores KO
Folley, eighth ranking contender from Chandler, Ariz., blasted Cooper's ambitions this time by knocking out the 26-year-old Brit-champ with a right to the jaw in 1:08 of the second round at Wembley Stadium.

Solomons said he had met Patterson's advisers in New York recently. He said the plans for the fight had been approved and that final negotiations had been conducted in code messages by cable. Solomons said Jim Wickes, Cooper's manager, had confirmed everything.

Folley, meanwhile, plans to return home on Friday. Manager Bill Swift said: "We intend to stop in New York to try to line up a title fight. I think we have a chance now."

Del. Valley Dumps Port

PORT JERVIS, N. Y. — Delaware Valley varsity won 54-47, the first time it has beaten Port and the junior varsity took a 31-20 verdict.

Frank Marinaccio scored 20 points for the winners, who came from behind in the second half.

Delaware was outshot from the floor, 20-18 but hit 16 of 25 free throws, while Port scored only seven on foul shots.

Both Fighters Predict Win In Las Vegas
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Both sides predicted Wednesday that the 15-round Gene Fullmer-Benny (Kid) Paret middleweight title fight Saturday will go the distance.

Marv Jensen, manager of Fullmer, the 160-pound champion from West Jordan, Utah, said: "We've been thinking about knockouts in our last 10 or 12 fights but it hasn't happened too often. When a man is in good condition, it's pretty tough to knock him out."

"I think it will go 15 rounds," said one of the handlers for welterweight champion Paret. The match at the Convention Center will be the first time a welterweight champion has fought for the middleweight title since 1957. Then, Carmen Basilio took the crown from Sugar Ray Robinson.

The champion rated a 3-1 favorite to take the former sugar cane cutter from Santa Clara, Cuba.

Conley Breaks Hand In Fight
HONOLULU (AP)—Gene Conley of the Washington Tapers broke his left hand Tuesday night in a first fight with Fred Sawyer, center of the Hawaii Chiefs. Sawyer caught a blow in the left eye.

The fracas occurred in the fourth quarter of their American Basketball League game.

Conley, who pitches for the Boston Red Sox during the baseball season, will be out of play about three weeks.

Skiing Is Newest Money Sport To Enter Television

By FRANK PITMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
ASPEN, Colo., (AP) — Pro skiing, born less than a year ago, is about to blossom into a big time spectator sport complete with television.

Friedl Pfeifer, president of the International Professional Ski Racers Association, says 10 races have been booked for this winter season at major United States and Canadian resorts. There's a minimum purse already assured of $3,000 for each race and this may be increased. Two of the top attractions will offer $7,500 and $5,000 to the pros.

Network television is being arranged for the opening race at Sun Valley, Idaho, Jan. 12. Negotiations are under way, too, for televising the first professional world ski championships at Aspen Feb. 9-11.

Pfeifer, former world amateur champion who heads the Aspen Ski School and a resort called Buttermilk Mountain, started the venture without capital last January.

Manufacturers' Purse
Last winter's purses came from a ski manufacturer and spectator admission fees. Five races drew 3,500 spectators. Now Pfeifer is talking of a gate exceeding 10,000 plus thousands of television viewers. The ski manufacturer has upped his contribution to $10,000 and a clothing manufacturer is sweetening the pot with another $10,000.

Top performers in last winter's races, ready to go again, are Anderi Molterer, Stein Eriksson and Christian Pravda — all former world amateur champs—plus Toni Spiss and Pepi Gramshammer, Austrian national champions. All now work at United States ski resorts.

Toni Sailer of Austria, billed as skiing's golden boy, may tour the new money circuit, says Pfeifer. He also expects Austrian Olympic gold medalist Ernst Hinterseer to join the pro route.

More showmanship along with acrobatic skiing is expected by Pfeifer to beef up this season's gates. He plans to provide spectator thrills.

Slalom Races
The pros will race down slalom and giant slalom courses. In those races they must sweep and turn through flag-marked gates staggered down the ski slope.

"The slaloms show off the superb ballet-style of these champions," says Pfeifer. "The downhill race is too long and too fast to pack much spectator appeal."

"The pro competitive entry list is small and the show brief enough so that boredom and chills don't set in, as they frequently do at the prolonged amateur races."

Pfeifer tabs his field of pros better than any ever gathered for any ski meet, including the Olympics or FIS world championships.

He lists the season schedule as Sun Valley, Jan. 12; Sugar Bowl, Calif., Jan. 20-21; Heavenly Valley, Calif., Jan. 27-28; Aspen world championships, Feb. 9-11; Georgian Peaks, Ont., Feb. 17-18; Mont Orford, Que., Feb. 24-25; Snow Ridge, N. Y., March 3-4; Boyne Mountain, Mich., March 9-10; Stevens Pass, Wash., April 7-8; Loveland Basin, Colo., April 14-15.

Planning For Next Year

By George Abraham

Beech Trees: While snowflakes are dancing, armchair gardeners are poring over catalogs trying to figure which plants they'll select for spring planting. There's one tree you'll want to give serious consideration and that is the purple-leaved beech.

To me this is the most colorful and beautiful of all trees. The leaves start out in spring in a deep maroon, and as summer progresses they turn to an even darker color. The richness of color and symmetry make it one of the finest trees known to man.

The beech is not soil-fussy. It does like a well drained soil. There is the European beech (Fagus sylvatica) and the American beech (F. grandifolia). The purple beech is a variety of the European and bears the Latin name of Fagus sylvatica atropurpurea, and the copper beech is F. sylvatica copper, valued for its bright coppery leaves. There is a fern-leaved beech which is an extremely handsome tree.

As for troubles, beeches fall heir to woolly aphids (controlled by malathion) and they are also susceptible for wood rots, quite often brought about by injuring the bark with lawn mowers. Be sure to treat any wound on the bark of beech. Incidentally, the purple coloring in beech is due to anthocyanin, the same coloring found in purple cabbage.

Notes on Nuts: Several readers wrote to tell me that my Nut Tree Culture bulletin left out a couple good tips on cracking nuts. One such tip: Roast walnuts, hickory nuts, and others in hot oven (400 degs. F) for 20 minutes, cool, crack and shell them.

Another tip: Cover unshelled nuts with boiling water (salted) allowing 1 tablespoon of salt to a quart of water. Boil gently for 3 minutes, crack and remove shells in double quick time. Did you get a copy of my new nut bulletin? Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and I'll see that you get a copy. My nut bulletin is full of good meat on growing nuts in the backyard.

Vines in Water: Some gardeners have good luck growing vines in water only; others find it impossible to get them to live. Not all foliage do well in water, but here are a few reliable types to try: Pothos, wandering Jew, Chinese Evergreen, Hawaiian Ti (pronounced "Tea"), coleus and philodendrons. These grow in plain tap water, and you do not have to change the water. Merely add to it when needed.

Adding a few pieces of charcoal in the water helps to sweeten it, and it's also a good idea to add a weak solution of a balanced liquid plant food to maintain green color. Do not add chemical fertilizers as they may injure the roots.

Trimming Evergreens: Few subjects are more baffling to gardeners than the job of trimming evergreens such as Yews, arborvitae and junipers. Actually there's no great secret to pruning.

Let's take the Yews for example. Yews can be sheared or pruned quite heavily and you can do the job anytime of the year. If the Yew is upright, it can be sheared into a compact or formal pyramid wider at the base, narrow at the top. Hedge shears are ideal for this.

The other way to handle the tall yew is to prune it informally. That is, instead of shearing it, you "pluck" or cut out the tips of long growing branches, here and there, so that the shrub is more graceful in appearance. This allows more space between the branches.

Shrubs that have been allowed to grow out of bounds, should not be pruned heavily all at once. First, try cutting the top back, and shortening the ends as often as new growth is made. It will take a period of 2 or 3 years to get a badly neglected yew back into shape. If the plant is too far gone, no amount of pruning can rejuvenate it.

If your yew is stingy in producing red fruit, remember sexes are separate. That is, there is a "he" and a "she" plant, and both are needed for fruiting. One male plant is enough to pollinate 6 to 8 female plants. Later, we'll tell you more about pruning Junipers and other evergreens.

Slipping House Plants: Sand or just plain tap water work fine in slipping house plants such as coleus, philodendron, and dozens of other items. This part is easy, but what causes leaves to shed, as soon as the cuttings are potted up in soil? The answer here is that the air is too hot and dry. The cuttings give off more moisture than the tiny roots can supply to the plant. Try maintaining a cooler room temperature until the rooted cuttings can become better established. Nurserymen syringe the foliage of rooted cuttings to help them become established.

Plastic tents over the newly potted plants does a lot to maintain the right humidity, and it's a simple job to use the plastic.

the type you get from the dry cleaners.

Songbirds: Don't forget our songbirds. As winter lengthens their natural food supply decreases and they'll appreciate a feeding station with suet and bird seed. And it's a good idea to be thinking about plant trees and shrubs which produce food birds love. Some of these include Crabapple, Mountain Ash, Hawthorne, Hackberry, honeysuckle, various viburnums, privet and elderberries.

The more birds you can lure around your home now, the fewer insects you'll be having next year. Stale doughnuts and bread crust hung in bushes make birds happy and it's a lot of fun looking out the window, watching them come and go.

Tellers' Union

ROME (AP)—One of Rome's leading fortune tellers says he is trying to set up a fortune tellers' union. The union, he says, mainly would be intended to provide the fortune tellers with medical insurance and old age pensions.

Achille d'Angelo, who lives in Rome but calls himself The "Wizard of Naples," told of his plans to unionize the Italian capital's fortune tellers at a news conference last night.

Rock 'n' Roll Still Alive 'n' Kicking

By Eugene Gilbert
President, Gilbert Youth
Research Co.

THERE may be a new twist in teen-age dancing these days, but rock 'n' roll music appears to be as popular as ever.

That's the opinion of 72 per cent of the 994 teen-agers we questioned in a nationwide cross-section survey. Only a small minority felt rock 'n' roll was on the way out, and most of them said they personally were getting tired of it.

"Six years of the same pattern gets tiring for anyone," commented Roc Muthaupt, 16, of Westport, Conn.

Is rock 'n' roll music getting worse? Twenty-nine percent of the boys who detected a decline in rock 'n' roll popularity said it was, but only 9 per cent of the girls in the same group agreed. By and large, however, 63 per cent of the teen-agers (69 per cent boys and 58 per cent girls) said they liked rock 'n' roll as much or more than ever.

They Seek Something New
Charles McCarty, 18, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., said he now is "able to understand the real meaning behind rock 'n' roll," but more teen-agers liked the music for the reason expressed by Paul Polster, 16, of South Euclid, Ohio: "I enjoy dancing to it."

Not all agreed. "The lyrics are worse and so are the melodies," said Toby Alan Fass, 18, of West New York, N. J., said "I'm beginning to like music, not just sounds." And Rita Friedman, 17, of Los Angeles said, "If you've heard one, you've heard 'em all."

Other than rock 'n' roll, most teen-agers expressed a preference for modern jazz, classical music and show music, but once again the musical tastes of the boys were different from the girls'. The boys liked modern jazz first (38 per cent) and classical music next (28 per cent) with only an insignificant number selecting other types—dixieland, old favorites, show music, ballads, etc.

But the girls picked show music first (28 per cent), with modern jazz their next preference (27 per cent) and classical music next (19 per cent).

While 40 per cent of the boys and 42 per cent of the girls said they detected a new trend in teenage music, they couldn't agree on what it was. Most of the boys (17 per cent) said the old favorites were coming back; but most girls (21 per cent) said the trend was to slower music and new dances. Whatever the trend is, 88 per cent of the girls and 80 per cent of the boys said they were in favor of it.

Where's Elvis?
There doesn't appear to be a particular favorite rock 'n' roll singer among today's teen-agers. The girls seemed to go for Bobby Rydell in a lukewarm sort of way (12 per cent); and Bobby Darin polled 9 per cent of the girls' votes. Darin got a nod from only 7 per cent of the boys, but it was more than could agree on anyone else. Most simply said there were many good singers.

Also, 60 per cent of the boys and 55 per cent of the girls said they no longer liked Elvis Presley as much as they once did. Most of this group (62 per cent) said they never liked him in the first place. "He thinks he's 'it' and he thinks he's hot stuff," said Danny Allen, 15, of Tullahoma, Tenn. "He wiggles too much," said A. Bowers, 15, of St. Louis. "A big flop," said Sharon Rouleau, 16, of Westville, N. H.

But Colette Auxier, 14, of Palo Alto, Calif., said in her book Elvis always would be king of rock 'n' roll.

"He was the one who started the whole thing," she reasoned.

Synthetic Rubber

NEW YORK (AP)—An executive of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. predicted some 80 per cent of the nation's total rubber requirements in 1966 will be filled by synthetic rubber. The figure now is 72 per cent. The estimate was made by Dr. J. D. D'Ammi, chemical products liaison for the company, at the 54th annual meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Problem Letters

Dear Mr. Gilbert,
My parents are very sticky about Christmas traditions. They want the family together starting with tree-trimming on Christmas Eve and right through Christmas Day. You'd think we still believed in Santa Claus! The Christmas holidays are a big party time with my crowd, but I'm told every year that family comes first, and that I shouldn't go out. How can I bring my parents up to date?
Rochester, N. Y.
Francesca R.

Dear Francesca,
Seems to me you're completely ignoring the real meaning of Christmas (which your parents are trying to hold to). You're passing over the richness of a religious celebration because you're party-crazy. You're lucky to have a family that believes in traditions. The school holiday is plenty long enough for parties after Christmas.
Eugene Gilbert

Dear Mr. Gilbert,
Don't you think a guy at 17 is entitled to a little privacy? If I'm up in my room working over my stamps or trying out a new guitar arrangement, my father is likely to walk right in without knocking. Isn't my room my own?
Bruce R.
Des Moines

Dear Bruce,
Your father has a hangover from days when you were small and your room had to be wide open. Remind him pleasantly that you're practically an adult, and the young days are over. A knock is minimum courtesy.
Eugene Gilbert

Want To Work Abroad?
U. S. Sends Secretaries

Gilbert Youth Service
A BAND of intrepid young women consumed with curiosity about the peoples of other cultures will soon be leaving the United States to take posts as secretaries in Indonesia, Iran, India, and other faraway spots around the globe.

Chosen from a horde of applicants who expressed interest in working on programs for underdeveloped countries through the Agency for International Development, the girls have signed up for two-year stays in lands they've never seen.

To preclude any starry-eyed visions the girls may have of life overseas, the government has done its utmost to be frank about conditions.

A report on Khartoum, in the Sudan, states that the climate is very hot, the city isolated, points of interest non-existent. (It's suggested the secretaries bring parlor games.) The waters of the Blue Nile, alas, are not fit to swim in, but the White Nile is generally regarded as safe. Offsetting the less desirable features are airconditioned apartments and good pay.

Rock 'n' Roll Singer Is Rich

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The 21st birthday of Frankie Avalon has been given judicial notice, so the rock 'n' roll singer now has $98,629 "in his own right."

Orphans' Court Judge Harold D. Saylor approved the accounting of Avalon's estate Tuesday. Avalon, who was 21 on Sept. 18, earned a gross of $660,000 during the eight years the court acted as his financial guardian.

Actually, Avalon is not an orphan but the court administers the affairs of all children earning large sums of money.

Judge Saylor, in releasing the final balance, said: "He is now master of it and I certainly hope something is done to protect it for him."

BIG Lists Aims To Bring In Industry

NEWFOUNDLAND — Reviewing its position in the community's development program, BIG, (the Bi-county Industrial Group), meeting with Willis Gilpin presiding, listed its aims as not only encouraging the coming of new industry to the area, but also the development of area employment and income.

"We have been overlooking our biggest asset," said Gilpin, who has headed BIG since its organization five years ago. "The resort industry is a 'natural' in this vacation land of the Poconos. The opportunities in the field are tremendous, from the training of young people in hotel management, to the employing of local people as waiters, waitresses, social directors and maintenance personnel."

To Develop Own
Re-adjusting its sights, BIG decided to attempt to develop its present industry, as well as to discover means of utilizing the idle land to increase income of the area farmers.

Tom Gangware, treasurer, reported on the successful fund drive headed by John C. Tobey. It was decided that committees will be set up to gather information on the resort industry and other developments in the industrial field.

To Enter Contest
The BIG unit will again enter the publicity contest sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce in the group including areas of less than 2,000 population. Robert J. Staph is in charge of this work for the local unit.

BIG officials present for the discussion were Willis Gilpin and the Rev. Larry Lindemuth, representing Dreher Township; Lawrence Simons, Sterling Township; and Albert Halde-man and Clayton Northup, Greene Township.

The next meeting of the group will be announced by Mr. Gilpin.

Regional Session On Development

CLOSE TO 200 community leaders are expected to participate in today's northeastern Pennsylvania's Regional Conference on Community Development at Hotel Sterling, Wilkes-Barre.

Victor C. Diehm, president of the Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission—the regional sponsoring organization—hailed the conference as the best method to bring community officials and leaders face to face with ranking federal and state experts who administer a broad number of community assistance programs.

John P. Robin, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Planning Board, has brought together the strongest bracket of federal and state officials ever to visit northeastern Pennsylvania at one time, Mr. Diehm said.

Gov. David L. Lawrence will head the Pennsylvania group while U. S. Senator Joseph S. Clark will lead the federal contingent.

Area Young Adults Unit Organized

BARRETT — The Pocono Young Adults, a group of young adults who are working in the Barrett area, have formed an organization which meets twice a month at the Barrett Branch YMCA.

They have chosen "Fellowship, Service and Charity" as their slogan. Gene Gladden has taken post as president with Julius Schmitt as vice president, Hannah Focht will serve as secretary and Barbara Hendeshot, treasurer.

The members are contacting local civic leaders to act as resource leaders to enable them to actively contribute to the community.

Meetings begin at 8:30 p.m. the second and fourth Wednesday of each month.

Late Birthday Gift For Mamie

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Although Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower observed her 66th birthday in Augusta, Ga., on Nov. 14, her birthday present from the former president didn't come along until Wednesday.

It was a gray, four-door compact car with red interior. There was no announcement from Eisenhower's office, but it was learned the car was delivered Wednesday. It is understood Mrs. Eisenhower has not driven a car in years.

The daily mean temperature in San Francisco is 56.5 degrees.

Chinese Raid Food Trucks

HONG KONG (AP) — Hungry Chinese peasants attacked a fleet of five trucks loaded with potatoes Monday on a highway across the border from Kong Kong, in Red China, the independent newspaper Sing Tao Jih Pao reported Wednesday.

The report said a large number of peasants was arrested by Communist soldiers. Some of the attackers, however, escaped with the contents of one truck.

Prisoners Will Be Released

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast (AP)—President Felix Houphouët-Boigny announced yesterday he is going to free 412 persons arrested in the Sanwi separatist attempt.

In 1959, when the Ivory Coast became independent from France, certain tribal chiefs of the Sanwi region tried to create an autonomous kingdom. Leaders of the movement and some of their followers were arrested and others fled to neighboring Ghana.

Dear Abby

Put Your Foot Down!

Dear Abby: I really got a kick out of "Church Widow." I am a preacher's husband. My home runs itself, and of late it sickens me to come home, Twenty-minute meals, no real cleaning, beds unmade until she hears my footsteps and, worst of all, children left on their own.

My crusading wife is determined that "the world must be his system of things" and is devoting practically all her time to this cause.

I am seriously thinking of taking a second look at someone I have avoided for many years. My wife can recite the Scriptures, but, may I ask, is not the proof of goodness in daily living? Have you the courage to print this?

"FATHER"

Dear "Father": I have the courage to print it, but that won't solve anything. Have YOU the courage to bring your wife down to earth? I couldn't agree more that "the proof of goodness is in daily living." Your wife could be more than "dedicated." She could be ill.

Dear Abby: I am a girl and I don't know how to kiss a boy. I mean I know HOW to kiss all right, but I don't know who is supposed to stop the kiss, the boy or the girl? Please put the answer in your column as I think I will have a chance to use it soon. Thank you.

LACKING EXPERIENCE

Dear Lacking: A kiss should "end" just as it begins. In unspoken mutual agreement.

Dear Abby: Christmas is coming and I am on the brink of telling my parents and in-laws what to give my children. At every gift-giving occasion I am simply FLOORED by their selections. We have 3 children under five and our budget is so tight we aren't able to buy big blocks or riding toys to provide lasting enjoyment.

At Christmastime well-meaning grandparents squander good money on a lot of little poorly-made wind-up toys and stuffed animals to be dragged on the floor to gather dirt. (I've yet to get one that is machine-washable.) Most have glass eyes that can be swallowed, felt tongues that fade, small toy cars with metal that bends in your fingers or wheels that fall off. Miniature housekeeping kits with thumb-sized "soap" and clothespins are ideal for a child to stick up his nose or swallow.

Please ask parents to consider the practical side of giving. Give one good thing that will last at least until New Year's.

Don't embarrass me by using my name. Sign this ... "ME"

Confidential To Carly: Tell her the truth, and don't worry about the consequences. She'll NEVER believe it!

LIVELINESS AND LUXURY AT A LOW, LOW PRICE

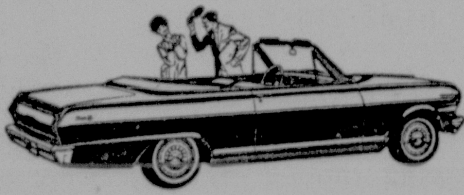

NEW CHEVY II

Never before such a team of totally new cars! Sedans, hardtop, station wagons, even a convertible ... you name it, Chevy II has it. Nine models in all now in production. What are they like? Well, imagine all the solid virtues you've always counted on from Chevrolet ... the steadfast dependability, the dyed-in-the-wool comfort ... all dressed up in a new just-right size and built a modern new way. That's Chevy II. It's easy on the eyes, easy on the road and easy on your pocketbook. It's ultra-easy to service and maintain. Front fenders, for instance, bolt on and off for easy repairs. Two spunky engines, a four and a six (your choice in most models), purr along merrily on regular gas—and darn little of it, too. Thanks to new Mono-Plate rear springs, the ride reminds you of the big Chevrolet—and you know how smooth that is. The space inside for people and things puts you in mind of big cars, too. So does the cushy comfort. But Chevy II parts company from anything else around when it comes to offering all these fine features—at a sensible low price. Fact is, luxury and low price have never been blended so beautifully. Check your Chevrolet dealer and see for yourself.

CHEVY II 300 4-DOOR 3-SEAT WAGON. Packs a whopping 76.2 cu. ft. of cargo.

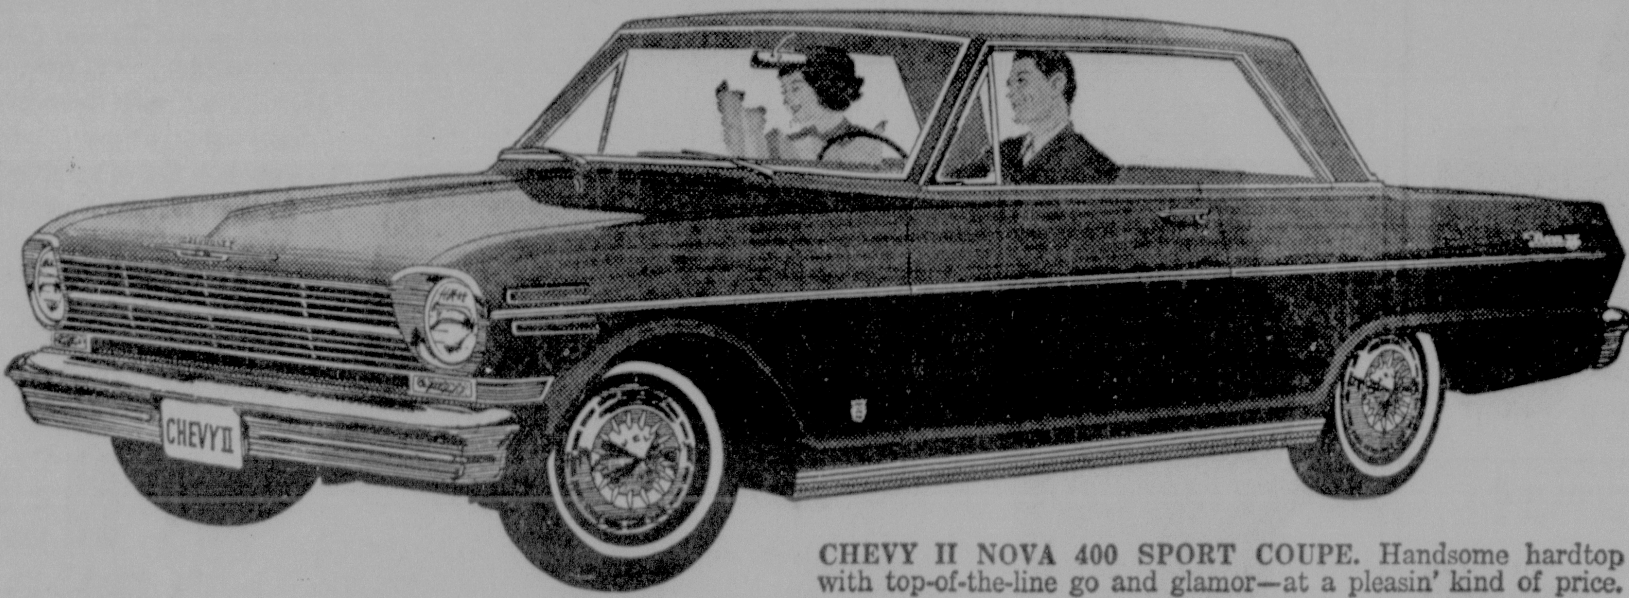

CHEVY II NOVA 400 CONVERTIBLE. It's Chevrolet's lowest priced convertible.

CHEVY II 300 4-DOOR SEDAN. Neat and practical 6-passenger family model.

Now ... look 'em over and try one out!

CHEVY II NOVA 400 SPORT COUPE. Handsome hardtop with top-of-the-line go and glamor—at a pleasin' kind of price.

Head Of Philco Corp. Is Named

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — President James M. Skinner Jr. said Wednesday that he would leave the Philco Corp. when it is taken over by Ford Motor Co. Skinner, in a statement issued by Philco, said he had agreed, however, at Ford's request to make himself available for "a period of months" as a consultant. The Ford purchase of Philco, approved recently by Philco stockholders, is expected to become effective later this month. Skinner, 46, said his decision was based largely on the belief "that at this point the interests of Philco under its new ownership would be best served by opening the way to the appointment of a new chief executive officer."

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Daily Record does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Beginning September 3, 1961, employers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and at least time and one-half for hours worked after 4 in a workweek, unless specifically exempt. Employees of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 3, 1963. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at 602 Wyoming Valley Veterans Bldg., Northeast Pennsylvania, 19 North Main Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Phone: VAlley 4-9540.
